Aggressor . . .

... On Border

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson Monday accused Communist China of premeditated naked military aggression against India in open scorn of U.N. principles.

Stevenson cited the India-China border warfare in replying to a Soviet demand in the 109-nation General Assembly that Nationalist China be ousted from the United Nations and all its U.N. representation turned over to the Chinese communists.

The demand came from Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin in a speech that opened debate on the China representation issue. The United States is confident the assembly will reject the Soviet demand by even a greater margin than it did last year.

No Reference
Zorin made no reference to the India-China border warfare, but Stevenson departed from his prepared text to quote Prime Minister Nehru as saying in New Delhi that his country is being subjected to aggression by a powerful and unscrupulous foe.

The U.S. chief delegate said the Communist China offensive was a premeditated act that had been planned for the past 3 years.

He declared the Chinese forces were not undisciplined troops but "regular units of the Communist Chinese armed forces acting under precise orders. By their actions the Chinese Communists again show their scorn for the charter of this organization."

Tension Up
Despite heightening tension between New Delhi and Peking there was no indication here that India would vote against admission of Communist China. Indian sources said they did not know when India would speak in the debate. Stevenson declared that by admitting Communist China the United Nations would not be opening the door to 600 million Chinese.

"We would be admitting a small handful of tyrants who care little about the people and more, much more, about power," he said. "Is this giving recognition and representation to 600 million voiceless human beings?"

Airplane Falls; 102 Survive

Sitka, Alaska (AP)—A military-chartered passenger airliner ditched in the Pacific Ocean off this southeast Alaska city Monday. A swift, skillful rescue saved all 102 persons aboard. Six were injured.

"The whole ship was evacuated in 2½ to 3 minutes," said Capt. Vinton Hanson of Bellevue, Wash., pilot of the Northwest Airlines DC7.

Hanson said the first indication of propeller trouble came when the plane was about 100 miles south of Sitka. He declared an emergency at 12:04 p.m. (PST), reducing speed and altering course so as to fly nearer shore.

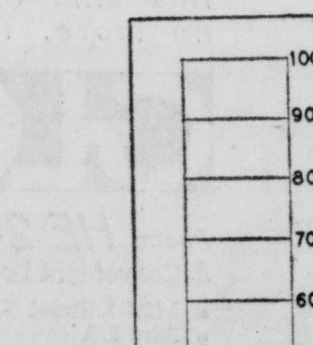

The pilot said he set the plane down in the water at 12:54 p.m.

"All of the passengers were out of the aircraft and into the life rafts by the time the water in the cabin had reached a point midway between my knee and thigh," said Ruth E. Fullerton, a stewardess from Kenville, Manitoba, Canada.

There were 95 passengers and a crew of 7 aboard. The ditching was so adept that the plane stayed afloat 22 minutes, while those aboard calmly got into 5 25-man life rafts.

A Coast Guard plane alighted at the scene within 3 minutes of the ditching and an Alaska Coast-Elis plane circled overhead. But it was a Federal Aviation Agency supply boat from a nearby FAA station that took the passengers from the rafts.

School Body Again Endorses State Aid

Delegates to the annual convention of the Nebraska State School Boards Association (NSSBA) approved 66-37 Monday a resolution urging the state to provide $100 per pupil per year in financial aid to public school districts.

The resolution said nothing about where the money should come from. Delegates Sunday night had deleted from the proposed resolution a sentence calling for financing the aid by an increase in the state property tax levy. Without this controversial provision, the aid resolution had fairly clear sailing.

Cost of the $100 per pupil aid has been estimated at about $25 million. Fourteen other resolutions were approved in the windup to the two-day convention.

One of these called for reorganization of all school districts into K-12 systems (kindergarten through high school) by July 1, 1970. Other resolutions included: —Giving teacher certification authority to the State Board of Education. —Declaring driver education is not a school responsibility. —Opposing general unspecified federal aid to education. —Asking a tightening up in respect of teacher contracts. —Stressing the teaching of the economics of the capitalist free enterprise system. —Asking the state to meet its responsibility in special education programs, in financing aid to junior colleges, in building a statewide educational television network, in beefing up the budget of the state education department, and in establishing more vocational-technical schools such as the one at Millard.

Today is a period of "rising expectations" which may be met only through education, State Commissioner of Education Floyd Miller told the some 400 members attending the 44th annual NSSBA meeting.

Grim Warning Is Given Russians By Kennedy

... Full Retaliation Promised If Red Nuclear Missile Fired

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy ordered a U.S. "quarantine" blockade of Cuba Monday night, saying the Soviets are sending Prime Minister Fidel Castro offensive weapons able to rain nuclear destruction on all the Americas.

Kennedy spoke in a grim emergency nationwide radio-television address in which he disclosed that, despite past Soviet assurances to the contrary, offensive atomic missile sites are being built in Cuba and Soviet jet bombers capable of carrying nuclear weapons have arrived there.

Kennedy outlined a 7-point program for fast military and diplomatic action to stop Cuba from being built up as a communist launching base against the hemisphere and sent a letter to Soviet Premier Khrushchev calling for a halt.

The President said the United States would wreak "a full retaliatory response upon the Soviet Union" if any nuclear missile is fired on any nation in this hemisphere.

Quick Developments
Speedy developments amid an atmosphere of deep crisis followed the President's somber announcement.

A Defense Department spokesman said the United States is ready to sink every communist bloc ship headed for Cuba which refuses to stop for a search. The blockade, which could apply against planes later, applies against offensive weapons but not nonmilitary necessities like food or medicine.

The Navy said at San Juan, Puerto Rico, that the more than 40 ships and 20,000 men assembled for announced annual Caribbean exercises now are "sustaining the blockade" of Cuba.

The United States summoned the Organization of American States (OAS) to an emergency session here at 9 a.m. EDT Tuesday in expectation that the inter-American group will approve the U.S. program, thereby giving it international legal standing.

Canada said it has stopped Soviet planes bound for Cuba and the Caribbean from landing at Canadian air bases, such as Gander, Nfld.

A Pentagon spokesman said Soviet vessels are en route to Cuba now. Russian ships have been traveling to and from the communist island nation in a steady stream for months. He said the first of the ships might be intercepted by U.S. warships in a day or two.

Kennedy used the word "quarantine" to describe the naval ring around Cuba, since "blockade" implies an act of war. State Department authorities said, however, that the U.S. act included the essential elements of a blockade—inspection, visit and search.

At the United Nations, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson called for an emergency meeting of the U.N. Security Council, which is expected to take place Tuesday afternoon. He sought a Security Council order for "immediate dismantling and withdrawal" of all offensive weapons in Cuba.

A Defense Department spokesman said Soviet missiles are manning 1,200-mile range rockets in Cuba on mobile launch pads aimed at key American cities, including Washington.

Exhibiting reconnaissance photographs of missiles in place, he said that despite no firm information on whether the rockets are nuclear-tipped, it is "inconceivable" that their warheads are other than atomic.

The spokesman said air and sea patrols will be watching ships moving toward Cuba. Warships will move in to intercept.

Intercept. If the U.S. boarding party finds offensive weapons aboard, the ship's captain will be told to head for any port other than Cuba.

Prepared To Sink Craft
If the ship refuses to stop for a search, the Pentagon spokesman said the United States is prepared to sink it. A State Department spokesman emphasized that short-of-attack measures will be tried first, such as firing a warning shot over the bow.

Kennedy warned in his speech that any atomic attack against any nation in the Western Hemisphere would bring full retaliation against the Soviet Union.

He coupled with this invitation to Khrushchev to join in "a search for peaceful and permanent solutions."

About the time of Kennedy's broadcast duplicates of a Kennedy letter to Khrushchev and copies of his speech were reported delivered to the Soviets — by the U.S. Embassy in Moscow and by Secretary of State Dean Rusk to Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin here.

Foreign reaction to Kennedy's dramatic announcement varied.

A West German spokesman welcomed "the determination of the U.S. government to counter the dangers arising from the situation." Kennedy, in his talk to the nation, noted the risk of conflict spreading to other cold war points and renewed U.S. promises to defend West Berlin.

The communist-controlled news media from Havana to Moscow denounced the Washington action as aggression against Cuba.

Kennedy cancelled all remaining dates on his political campaign speaking schedule. He asked congressional leaders, who hastened here Monday to confer with him, to remain in Washington indefinitely, but no talk was heard of calling a special session of Congress.

Democratic leaders lined up behind the President. Some Republicans said the actions taken were "long overdue" and "several months too late."

According to U.S. authorities, the Soviets have sent nuclear missiles to no other country. The United States has refrained from giving atomic warheads to other nations, and this mutual restraint by the two major nuclear powers had been regarded in Washington as one of the main curbs on outbreak of an atomic war.

Both Parties Give JFK Full Support

Washington (UPI) —Congressional leaders of both parties Monday night overwhelmingly endorsed President Kennedy's decision to impose a blockade on arms shipments to Cuba.

The 7 top Republican leaders who conferred with Kennedy at the White House said "Americans will support the President on the decision or decisions he makes for the security of our country."

The statement was signed by Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper, Iowa, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, Mass., Sen. Alexander Wiley, without further participation in the campaign. Dirksen and Wiley are engaged in hot campaigns for re-election.

Similar
The strong endorsement Kennedy received from the legislators was similar to the overwhelming votes by which Congress approved its fight-if-we-must resolution on Cuba.

Rep. William E. Miller, N.Y., Republican national chairman said: "The Republican Party stands united behind President Kennedy's action on Cuba. It is action long delayed, but it is the right action . . . we hope and pray that the same timidity and indecision which doomed the Bay of Pigs invasion will not govern the enforcement of the announced quarantine of offensive weapons."

The National Republican Congressional Committee said "we applaud his action." The committee added: "since Republican congressmen have long called for a stand on Cuba, including a blockade, we believe President Kennedy will find GOP congressmen and candidates for Congress supporting his action."

Courageous
Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., said that the President's action was "a courageous one." He said "the Soviets have engaged in deception and lies and the action of the President is in the national interest and I support it wholeheartedly."

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, of Mont., said:

Solid Stand
Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., secretary of the Senate Democratic Conference, said that both GOP and Democratic leaders had assured the President they would stand solidly behind him.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the President had asked the congressional leaders to remain in Washington for an indefinite time and they had agreed.

Salinger stopped short of indicating that Kennedy meant for the leaders to remain here

"The leadership expressed full support for the President and recognized that he and he alone had to make the decision in the light of all the information available."

Senate Republican whip Thomas Kuchel, Calif., said: "so far as American foreign policy is concerned, politics has adjourned. This is a deadly serious situation and the American people are going to rally behind the President."

House Democratic leader Carl Albert, Okla., said: "I am sure the President will have the backing of the American people. I am sure he will have the solid bipartisan support of Congress."

Smathers said that in their one-hour and a half meeting with Kennedy in the cabinet room there was a general discussion of "just what this might lead to."

"The consensus of everyone was that this had to be done," Smathers said. "The principal consensus was that there must be unity. The leaders — Republicans and Democrats — indicated they will join hands behind the President because he is the commander-in-chief."

Nebraska Republican Senator Roman Hruska, speaking in Fremont Monday night, said: "The American people will give full support to the President's clear and vigorous statement. It is a firm statement and one given from a position of strength. This is as it should be. The Congress will accord every cooperation. Certainly this senator will do so. A risk is being incurred. We know that. But the risk of any other course would be far greater."

Red China Hurls Tanks Into Battle

Hard-Pressed Indian Troops Give Ground

Tokyo (Tuesday) (P) — Red China declared Tuesday it is still ready to reopen negotiations with India for peaceful settlement of the Chinese-Indian border conflict.

Red China coupled its avowed willingness to negotiate with a demand for Indian troops to get out of what it called Chinese territory. It also reaffirmed its refusal to recognize the McMahon line, which India considers its northern border with communist-captive Tibet.

New Delhi, India (P) — Prime Minister Nehru warned Monday night that India's independence as a nation was threatened as Red Chinese threw tanks into battle in some of the world's loftiest mountains and extended their attacks to a spread of 1,400 miles along the Himalayan frontiers.

The 72-year-old prime minister, who helped lead the nation to independence 15 years ago, told his 457 million people in a 13-minute broadcast nevertheless that "the final result will be in our favor. It cannot be otherwise."

Sounding tired from the 3 days of crisis and Chinese attacks which were steadily pushing back India's frontier troops, Nehru said India "must carry on the struggle" because she cannot submit to the aggression or domination of a "powerful and unscrupulous" foe.

Calling on the people to have faith and full confidence, he said, no important part of the nation's 5-year economic plan will be reduced. But he declared everything will be sacrificed if necessary to save Indian freedom.

New Front Opened
Nehru's warning and call for national sacrifice was sounded as Indian defense spokesmen announced that Mao Tze-tung's Chinese warriors had opened a new front in the area of Rima (formerly Chayu), only about 20 miles northwest of Burma's border.

This is at the extreme eastern end of India's northern frontiers and 1,400 crow-flight miles from the western front in Ladakh.

Near Pangong Lake in southeastern Ladakh, whose brackish waters are nearly 14,000 feet high, Indians lost 4 out of 5 defense posts, one of them to an attack by Chinese tanks, the Indians reported.

Britain Ready to Aid
London (P) — Britain accused communist China Monday of aggression against India and stood ready to hurry weapons and other military aid to her threatened commonwealth partner.

Intensified fighting along the wild, disputed frontiers of the two Asian giants brought these developments:

1. The Foreign Office went out of its way to remind newsmen that Britain regards India as the victim of Red Chinese aggression.
2. The Defense Ministry announced that Admiral of the Fleet Earl Mountbatten, chief of the defense staff, will visit New Delhi among other Asian capitals early next month.
3. Qualified officials reported after informal exchanges that the British government soon is likely to announce its readiness to meet some of India's most urgent military needs, including aircraft supplies.
4. The British hustled into consultations with the United States and other allied and commonwealth nations on all the implications of the dangerous situation developing in the Himalayas.
5. Prime Minister Macmillan conferred urgently with home and Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys and afterward officials said a government statement may soon be issued. This is expected to affirm British readiness to discuss ways of helping the Indians because of the circumstances of the crisis.

Crewmen stood at attention in front of Chinese communist medium tanks during parade in Peiping in 1957. India said Monday Chinese Reds are using them in the frontier battle.

Siren Malfunction Causes Alarm

A malfunctioning Civil Defense siren following on the heels of President Kennedy's announcement of a grave threat to the U.S. from offensive missile bases in Cuba sent a large portion of Lincoln's residents racing for their telephones Monday night.

Calls poured into city police headquarters, the county sheriff's office, Nebraska Safety Patrol, newspaper, radio, and television offices as Lincoln's sought the reason for the unexpected alarm.

Commanding officers at city police headquarters, control center for the CD warning system, had no knowledge that the siren had gone off until they began receiving calls from anxious citizens.

'Bad Thing'

"We turned it off as soon as the first call came in," said Lt. Melburn Green, "but it was a bad time for such a thing to occur in light of the gravity of the night's news."

City, county, and state law enforcement agencies said they knew of only one siren in the system that had gone off, at Pius X High School, but several of the more than 50 callers to The Star reported hearing the siren at Southeast High School.

The sirens had not sounded at 5 p.m. Monday, the routine testing period for the warning equipment.

This was due to installation work being done on the new police communications equipment at headquarters requiring some wiring alterations. The CD equipment was not hooked up in time for the scheduled test, but was again operative at 7 p.m.

Manually Operated

The sirens are turned off and on manually at police headquarters every Monday at 5 p.m., the normal testing period, but officers still have no way of knowing other than if they hear them whether the sirens are going or not. There are no warning lights at the control center.

Explained City-County Defense Director Richard A. Vestekka:

"Factually, you are going to get equipment failures as long as you have equipment, but we try to make the system as perfect as possible."

"We regret that these things occur but they do, and at particularly in appropriate times. We have a maintenance crew whose specific function is to try to prevent such malfunctions."

Vestekka added that the type of signal emitted should in itself be some kind of a tip-off to the people. A 3-minute wailing siren, rising and falling, means to take cover, while a steady 5-minute blast is a general alert meaning "watch out."

Police said the blast Monday night was steady and lasted from approximately 11:15 p.m. to 11:19 p.m., less than 5 minutes.

LAFB Denies General Alert Duty Reports

Reports that a large number of Lincoln Air Force Base men had been called to alert duty were denied late Monday night by base officials.

The reports circulated in Lincoln following President U.S. moves in the Cuban situation.

Maj. George Spottswood, base information officer, said there was "no general alert."

A part of the LAFB force always is on alert duty and Maj. Spottswood said a few more men may have reported Monday night.

Strategic Air Command headquarters at Offutt Air Force Base said any information on activities must come from the Pentagon. SAC noted, however, that its bomber force always is "on alert."

Review Worship Customs

Catholicism Begins Sweeping Study

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Vatican City (P) — Roman Catholicism Monday began a sweeping review of its customs of worship.

A broad scale plan for liturgical modifications presented to the Vatican Ecumenical Council touched off an apparently brisk round of debate.

"Some defended it," a communiqué said. "Others impugned it."

Details of the plan were not disclosed, but preparatory reports have indicated it would include a considerable overhauling of ritual and worship practices.

Steps to encourage fuller congregational participation, to bring the altar and people closer together and to substitute national tongues for part of the Latin mass have been discussed, among other measures. Internal renewal of the church is their avowed aim.

But some of the proposed changes are also viewed by church leaders as an aid to helping close the chasm between Rome and other denominations.

Another Nudge

Efforts in this direction got another major boost Monday when the Vatican's Secretariat for Christian Unity was accorded official status on a par with the other 10 proposal-drafting commissions.

Headed by Augustin Cardinal Bea, a renowned Biblical scholar, it will draw up and present specific measures to the council for bringing closer ties with other church bodies.

At the same time, announcement was made of members elected to 3 additional drafting commissions—on religious orders, the sacraments, and seminaries and schools.

Prelates from the United States elected to the 3 commissions were:

Archbishop Patrick O'Bryen of Washington, D.C., and Bishop Joseph McGucken of New Orleans, La., commission for Seminaries, Studies, and Catholic Schools.
Archbishop Edward Celestin Daly of Des Moines, Iowa, and Bishop Joseph Meshe of Allentown, Pa., commission for the Religious Orders.
Archbishop Joseph Thomas McGucken of San Francisco and Bishop Franz Reh of Charleston, S.C., commission for the Discipline of Sacraments.

SLAIN GIRL'S STEPFATHER SURRENDERS

Van Nuys, Calif. (P) — The stepfather of 16-year-old actress Terry Lee Yeigh surrendered to police Monday and, officers said, told them he "must have" killed her.

A mother, Yeigh, 39, called Det. Lt. Charles Crumly from a Hollywood hotel and said he wanted to give himself up.

"I must have done it," officers quoted him as saying. "There was no one else in the apartment. I don't remember what happened."

The slim body of the young actress was found last Thursday night stuffed underneath her bed in her Van Nuys home.

Yeigh, owner of a teen-age night club in Pismo Beach had been missing since the slaying.

He was booked on suspicion of murder.

AP SUED BY GEN. WALKER

Oxford, Miss. (P) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker filed a libel suit against the Associated Press Monday for $2 million, claiming he was damaged in stories about rioting at the University of Mississippi.

Walker, in the suit filed in Lafayette County Circuit Court here, asked $1 million actual and $1 million punitive damages.

The stories dealt with Walker's role in the night of rioting that followed the arrival of Negro James H. Meredith on the "Ole Miss" campus, Sept. 30.

Paris (P) — A spokesman for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) Monday night denied rumors that NATO bases had been put on an alert. The rumors circulated in diplomatic circles following the U.S. military show of force in the Caribbean area.

48 Survivors Picked Up

Rorvik, Norway (P) — Survivors told Monday of scrambling into life boats in a howling gale off this Arctic port after the coastal liner Sanct Svithun ran on a reef and sank.

Agents for the 2,172-ton liner said 48 survivors had been picked up and 13 bodies recovered. A search plane reported sighting other bodies in the water.

The ship carried a crew of 50. The owners said it was not determined how many passengers were on board but the number was "somewhat more than 20."

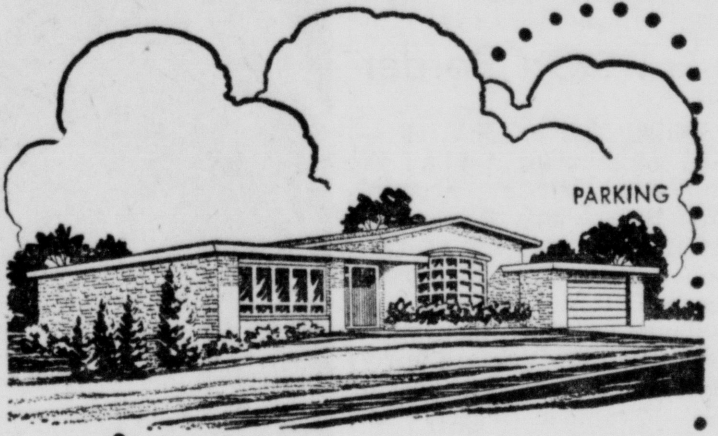

Capt. Anker Pedersen, traveling as a passenger, said he saw the skipper of the Sanct Svithun on the deck minutes before the liner sank Sunday night and expressed fear he went down with his ship.

"It was a howling gale, dark and the visibility was poor when the terrific jolt came," said Pedersen. "I ran on the deck. Passengers and crew came streaming up. Shortly afterward the electricity failed and the ship slid off the reef and started to sink. We were all ordered to abandon ship."

Kennedy Speech Text On Cuba Crisis Given

From Press Dispatches
Washington — Following is the prepared text of President Kennedy's speech to the nation Monday night:

Good evening, my fellow citizens:

This government, as promised, has maintained the closest surveillance of the Soviet military buildup on the island of Cuba. Within the past week, unmistakable evidence has established the fact that a series of offensive missile sites is now in preparation on that imprisoned island. The purpose of these bases can be none other than to provide a nuclear strike capability against the western hemisphere.

Upon receiving the first preliminary hard information of this nature last Tuesday morning at 9 a.m., I directed that our surveillance be stepped up. And having now confirmed and completed our evaluation of the evidence and our decision on a course of action, this government feels obliged to report this new crisis to you in full detail.

Two Types Of Bases

The characteristics of these new missile sites indicate two distinct types of installations. Several of them include medium range ballistic missiles, capable of carrying a nuclear warhead for a distance of more than 1,000 nautical miles. Each of these missiles, in short, is capable of striking Washington, D.C., the Panama Canal, Cape Canaveral, Mexico City, or any other city in the southeastern part of the United States, in Central America or in the Caribbean area.

Additional sites not yet completed appear to be designed for intermediate range ballistic missiles—capable of traveling more than twice as far—and thus capable of striking most of the major cities in the western hemisphere, ranging as far north as Hudson's Bay, Canada and as far south as Lima, Peru. In addition, jet bombers, capable of carrying nuclear weapons, are now being uncrated and assembled on Cuba, while the necessary air bases are being prepared.

'Explicit Threat'

This urgent transformation of Cuba into an important strategic base—by the presence of these large, long-range and clearly offensive weapons of sudden mass destruction—constitutes an explicit threat to the peace and security of all the Americas, in flagrant and deliberate defiance of the Rio Pact of 1947, the traditions of this nation and hemisphere, the joint resolution of the 87th Congress, the charter of the United Nations, and my own public warnings to the Soviets on September 4 and 13. This action also contradicts the repeated assurances of Soviet spokesmen, both publicly and privately delivered, that the arms buildup in Cuba would retain its original defensive character, and that the Soviet Union had no need or desire to station strategic missiles on the territory of any other nation.

'Planned Months'

The size of this undertaking makes clear that it had been planned some months ago. Yet only last month, after I had made clear the distinction between any introduction of ground-to-ground missiles and the existence of defensive anti-aircraft missiles, the Soviet government publicly stated on September 11 that "the armaments and military equipment sent to Cuba are designed exclusively for defensive purposes," that "there is no need for the Soviet Union to shift its weapons . . . for a retaliatory blow to another country, for instance Cuba," and that "the Soviet Union has so powerful rockets to carry these nuclear warheads that there is no need to search for sites for them beyond the boundaries of the Soviet Union." That statement was false.

Only last Thursday, as evidence of this rapid offensive buildup was already in my hand, Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko told me in my office that he was instructed to make it clear once again, as he said his government had already done, that Soviet assistance to Cuba "pursued solely the purpose of contributing to the defense capabilities of Cuba," that "training by Soviet specialists of Cuban nationals in handling defensive armaments was by no means offensive," and that "if it were otherwise, the Soviet government would never become involved in rendering such assistance." That statement also was false.

Neither the United States of America nor the world community of nations can tolerate deliberate deception and offensive threats on the part of any nation, large or small. We no longer live in a world where only the actual firing of weapons represents a sufficient challenge to a nation's security to constitute a maximum peril. Nuclear weapons are so destructive, and ballistic missiles are so swift, that any substantially increased possibility of their use or any sudden change in their deployment may well be regarded as a definite threat to the peace.

For many years, both the Soviet Union and the United States—recognizing this fact—have deployed strategic nuclear weapons with great care, never upsetting the precarious status quo which ensured that these weapons would not be used in the absence of some vital challenge. Our own strategic missiles have never been transferred to the territory of any other nation under a cloak of secrecy and deception; and our history—unlike that of the Soviets since World War II—demonstrates that we have no desire to dominate or conquer any other nation or impose our system upon its people. Nevertheless, American citizens have become adjusted to living daily on the bull's eye of Soviet missiles located inside the USSR or in submarines. In that sense, missiles in Cuba add to an already clear and present danger—although, it should be noted, the nations of Latin America have never previously been subjected to a potential nuclear threat.

But this secret, swift and extraordinary build-up of Communist missiles—in an area well-known to have a special and historical relationship to the United States and the nations of the western hemisphere in violation of Soviet assurances, and in defiance of American and hemispheric policy—this sudden, clandestine decision to station strategic weapons for the first time outside of Soviet soil—is a deliberately provocative act which is required change in the status quo which cannot be accepted this country, if our courage and our commitments are ever to be trusted again by either friend or foe.

The 1930's taught us a clear lesson: aggressive conduct, if allowed to grow unchecked and unchallenged, ultimately leads to war. This nation is opposed to war. We are also true to our word. Our unswerving objective, therefore, must be to prevent the use of these missiles against this or any other country, and to secure their withdrawal or elimination from the western hemisphere. Our policy has been one of patience and restraint, as befits a peaceful and powerful nation, which leads a world wide alliance. We have been determined not to be diverted from our central concerns by mere irritants and fanatics. But now further action is required—and it is underway; and these actions may only be the beginning. We will not prematurely or unnecessarily risk the costs of world-wide nuclear war in which even the fruits of victory would be ashes in our mouth—but neither will we shrink from that risk at any time it must be faced.

Acting, therefore, in the defense of our own security and that of the entire western hemisphere, and under the authority entrusted to me by the Constitution as endorsed by the resolution of the Congress, I have directed that the following initial steps be taken immediately:

'Strict Quarantine'
1. First: to halt this offensive buildup, a strict quarantine on all offensive military equipment under shipment to Cuba is being initiated. All ships of any kind bound for Cuba, from whatever nation or port, will, if found to contain cargoes of offensive weapons, be turned back. This quarantine will be extended, if needed, to other types of cargo and carriers. We are not at this time, however, denying the necessities of life as the Soviet attempted to do in their Berlin blockade of 1948.

2. Second: I have directed the continued and increased close surveillance of Cuba and its military buildup. The foreign ministers of the OAS in their communique of Oct. 6 rejected secrecy on such matters in this hemisphere. Should these offensive military preparations continue, this increasing the threat to the hemisphere, further action will be justified. I have directed the armed forces to prepare for any eventualities; and I trust that, in the interest of both the Cuban people and the Soviet technicians at these sites, the hazards to all concerned of continuing this threat will be recognized.

3. Third: It shall be the policy of this nation to regard any nuclear missile launched from Cuba against any nation in the western hemisphere as an attack by the Soviet Union on the United States requiring a full retaliatory response upon the Soviet Union.

4. Fourth: As a necessary military precaution, I have reinforced our base at Guantanamo, evacuated today the dependents of our personnel there and ordered additional military units to stand by on an alert basis.

Calling OAS Meet
5. Fifth: We are calling tonight for an immediate meeting of the organ of consultation under the Organization of American States, to consider this threat to hemispheric security and to invoke Articles 6 and 8 of the Rio treaty in support of all necessary action. The United Nations Charter allows for regional security arrangements—and the nations of this hemisphere decided long ago against the military presence of outside powers. Our other allies around the world have also been alerted.

6. Sixth: Under the charter of the United Nations, we are asking tonight that an emergency meeting of the Security Council be convoked without delay to take action against this latest Soviet threat to world peace. Our resolution will call for the prompt dismantling and withdrawal of all offensive weapons in Cuba, under the supervision of UN observers, before the quarantine can be lifted.

7. Seventh and finally: I call upon Chairman Khrushchev to halt and eliminate this clandestine, reckless and provocative threat to world peace and to stable relations between our two nations. I call upon him further to abandon this course of world domination, and to join in an historic effort to end the perilous arms race and transform the history of man. He has an opportunity now to move the world back from the abyss of destruction—by returning to his government's own words that it had no need to station missiles outside its own territory, and withdrawing these weapons from Cuba — by refraining from any action which will widen or deepen the present crisis—and then by participating in a search for peaceful and permanent solutions.

Will Present Case
This nation is prepared to present its case against this Soviet threat to peace, and our own proposals for a peaceful world, at any time and in any forum—in the OAS, in the United Nations, or in any other meeting that could be useful—without limiting our freedom of action. We have in the past made strenuous efforts to limit the spread of nuclear weapons. We have proposed the elimination of all arms and military bases in a fair and effective disarmament treaty. We are prepared to discuss new proposals for the removal of tensions on both sides—including the possibilities of a genuinely independent Cuba, free to determine its own destiny. We have no wish to war with the Soviet Union—we are a peaceful people who desire to live in peace with all other peoples.

But it is difficult to settle or even discuss these problems in an atmosphere of intimidation. That is why this latest Soviet threat—or any other threat which is made either independently or in response to our actions this week—must and will be met with determination. Any hostile move anywhere in the world against the safety and freedom of peoples to whom we are committed—including in particular the brave people of West Berlin—will be met by whatever action is needed.

Finally, I want to say a few words to the captive people of Cuba, to whom this speech is being directly carried by special radio facilities. I speak to you as a friend, as one who knows of your deep attachment to your fatherland, as one who shares your aspirations for liberty and justice for all. And I have watched with deep sorrow how your nationalist revolution was betrayed—and how your fatherland fell under foreign domination. Now your leaders are no longer Cuban leaders inspired by Cuban ideals. They are puppets and agents of an international conspiracy which has turned Cuba against your friends and neighbors in the Americas—and turned it into the first Latin American country to become a target for nuclear war—the first Latin American country to have these weapons on its soil.

These new weapons are not in your interest. They contribute nothing to your peace and well-being. They can only undermine it. But this country has no wish to cause you to suffer or to impose any system upon you. We know your lives and land are being used as pawns by those who deny you freedom.

Many times in the past, the Cuban people have arisen to throw out tyrants who destroyed their liberty. And I have no doubt that most Cubans today look forward to the time when they will be truly free—free from foreign domination, free to choose their own leaders, free to select their own system, free to own their own land, free to speak and write and worship without fear or degradation. And then shall Cuba be welcomed back to the society of free nations and to the associations of this hemisphere.

'Dangerous Effort'

My fellow citizens: let no one doubt that this is a difficult and dangerous effort on which we have set out. No one can foresee precisely what course it will take or what costs or casualties will be incurred. Many months of sacrifice and self-discipline lie ahead—months in which both our will and our patience will be tested—months in which many threats and denunciations will keep us aware of our danger. But the greatest danger of all would be to do nothing.

The path we have chosen for the present is full of hazards, as all paths are—but it is the one most consistent with our character and courage as a nation and our commitments around the world. The cost of freedom is always high—but Americans have always paid it. And one path we shall never choose is the path of surrender or submission.

Our goal is not the victory of might but the vindication of right—not peace at the expense of freedom, but both peace and freedom, here in this hemisphere, and, we hope, around the world. God willing, that goal will be achieved.

Injunctive Suit On Labor Practices Cites Gering Firm

An injunctive suit against the Morrison Livestock Commission Co., Gering, Neb., for alleged violations of labor law has been filed in U.S. District Court at Lincoln by the U.S. Dept. of Labor.

The department alleges 10 minors under 16 were employed more than 8 hours a day and 18 hours a week during weeks school was in session as prohibited by law.

Also alleged is failure to pay the legal minimum wage to 9 present and former employees since June 19, 1960, and time-and-a-half for hours in excess of 40 per work week.

The court is asked to bar the defendant company and officers, Ralph Morrison, president, and Paul Morrison, vice president, from future violations of child labor and other provisions of Federal Wage-Hour Law and to require defendants to keep adequate time and pay records.

The Lowly Property Tax

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A great many people will be surprised at the Nebraska Tax Research Council report which shows that property taxes supply only 15 to 20 per cent of the total state budget. But the figures released by the study group provide us with more than surprise. The real significance in the report is found in the showing of a need for some real planning in matters of state financing. The question for Nebraska is not just one of broadening its tax base but rather, a question of the state's total financial picture.

Any assumption that these figures show the tax burden in the state to be light is in error. Such a conclusion might well be the first thing that some people would claim.

The Additional Tax Bites

To offset any such idea is the real fact of the existence of many other governmental subdivisions. The property tax is not a great burden at the state level but it does become a burden when the many other governmental units total up their use of the measure. Added to the state levy must be the levies of the counties, the school districts, the cities and any other subdivisions that might be in operation within various areas.

Lincoln, for example, for some time had a special district for drainage control work and it had authority to levy up to a two mill tax. The city now has operating within it the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District which can levy nearly a mill. In other areas there are other kinds of special governmental units set up to perform a specific job and with authority to tax the property within their boundaries.

Of concern in this regard is the fact that the problems of this state are not all confined to the state level but are found within the total framework of our government. There is a reverse reaction to all of this which should be kept in mind.

No governmental subdivision with the possible exception of the federal government can consider itself independent of other units. What one governmental unit does is reflected in what another does because it is the total bill paid by the taxpayer that causes him alarm. But the 15 to 20 per cent figure has some other elements of deceit in it also. It would appear as though the state were quite efficient when it comes to taxing the people of Nebraska. It appears this way only because there is substantial income from other quarters. About one half of the total budget of the state is composed of federal funds and large amounts of money are received from other sources such as cigarette and liquor taxes, various road fees, intangible taxes, the tax on horse race betting, etc.

Also, the 15 to 20 per cent figure is applied to the total budget when taxes are generally weighed only in consideration of the general fund. It is the general fund which must be made to balance through the tax levy and the property tax supports 55 per cent of that fund. But even 55 per cent support is relatively small and does seem to point out that the state has not been excessive in its use of this source of income. Other figures such as Nebraska's low per capita tax payments and taxes in Nebraska in relation to income have given further evidence of the fact that the state has not drained its taxpayers. Of course, no one advocates that the taxpayers be drained but it is important to have a good understanding of our finances if we are to get all the things done that need doing.

When we speak of broadening Nebraska's tax base, it is not intended to imply that we can in this way get money painlessly from the citizens of the state. Proposals have been made to broaden the tax base in an effort to make it easier for the state to move into public service areas where a need exists. It now has difficulty doing this because all subdivisions in the state are relying heavily upon the property tax.

The fact is that the cities, schools and counties constitute a much greater property tax burden than the state. The state has been forced to use caution in increasing the property tax because other governmental units make such dominant use of it. The figures of the research council bear out the belief that the state needs to explore other avenues of income.

The council also took note of the large amount of federal funds that are poured into the state. It noted that since federal funds need to be matched, the state, obviously, would not have spent certain funds were it not for the federal grants. The statement seems to be an indictment of such funds. One might get the idea that if only the federal government would stop its various aid programs, we would have a much smaller tax bill. We would have a smaller tax bill but we would lack a fantastic amount of services that are now provided us. We would have practically no highway program at all since this is one of the major areas of federal concern and help.

We would have far less by way of airports, hospitals, sewage treatment, welfare programs, health programs and flood control and reclamation work. We simply wouldn't recognize the state of Nebraska as it would be without federal aid and federal programs of assistance in other ways. Our farms would still not be modernized by electricity and our University of Nebraska would be far different than it is. Federal aid is not free in any sense of the word but it has certainly been a needed and useful stimulant to Nebraska.

What Federal Aid Means

Buying A Pipe Dream

A number of Lincoln people have found themselves to be extremely unhappy with their purchases of new stereos. Their unhappiness stems from their purchases of sets for more than the machines were worth and from finding no chance of the price cuts they were led to believe were possible.

They bought with the promise that they would be given a $15 credit to their account for every name furnished the company where a demonstration of the machine could be made. Now, they find that the selling company has moved out of town and that the contracts for payment of the stereos have been sold to a local loan firm.

We do not pretend to know all the legal complications of the thing. Presumably, the local loan firm has a large amount of good accounts that it has every right to collect. The stereo customers will have to pay off these accounts.

But they have indicated they will act to have legislation adopted to prohibit such a thing from happening in the future. It would be fine to have such legislation and it would help if the county attorney's office were given some responsibility for prosecution of any violation of the law.

The general public, however, should understand that the presence of a law is far from any guarantee of protection. Law or no law, there are those who will attempt to profit unfairly at the expense of people's gullibility. The admonition for the buyer to beware will never be replaced by any statute.

Teaching, Punishing Contrast

Some thought-provoking comments are included in an article this week in "The Forum," the inmate publication at Nebraska's Penitentiary. The article in question here was written by a penitentiary inmate who was committed to the "Industrial School for Boys" at Kearney at age 16, spent six years there, and had not been back there for 15 years.

"I believe that had I been sent here (Kearney) under the present program, then maybe, just maybe, my life might have been different," the Penitentiary inmate writes.

When he was there, the Pen inmate reports, "Primary interest lay in how much work energy each boy spent." Now, he says, "instruction is the theme; not punishment. They are enabling the boys to learn how to live with other people, what respect means and not possess the feeling that people will look down upon them. . . . Their school system today is as nice, and with very high standards, as any in the state on the same level. The teachers are sincerely desirous of teaching, not punishing, any boy who wants help. . . . and those who don't want help. It is a challenge to them; not a job!"

One wonders whether the school was as bad then as it seems in the memory of a boy who spent time there. One wonders whether the picture may not seem extra rosy in comparison with the memory. One wonders, too, along with the Pen inmate who wrote the article, whether different treatment would have caused a different result in his particular case. But of one thing we can be certain: the proper operation of such an institution as the Kearney school will be one of correction, training, education and help. And that makes this report from a man who's had trouble since all the more heartwarming.

This is the season when various political interest groups play the game of rating congressmen and senators according to their votes. It's an interesting game, but one we hope readers don't take too seriously unless they are willing to study carefully the issues on which the ratings were made.

Arguing On Military Value Of Outer Space

(Editor's Note — While Drew Pearson is on a political survey, his column is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON—A unique and very important tug-of-war is going on inside the Pentagon not unlike the old argument between the admirals and civilians over the value of battleships. Only in this case, it's over the future military value of outer space and whether space battleships will be scattered among the stars to patrol the outer heavens.

Here is the line-up in the argument:

The Air Force is vigorously for the space battleships, claims that control of outer space is essential to American safety.

The civilian research chief of the Pentagon, Assistant Secretary of Defense John Rubel, pooh-poohs the military role of outer space.

The Russians, who aren't actually engaging in the argument as far as we are concerned, nevertheless have sided with the Air Force.

Right in the middle of the debate inside the Pentagon, a confidential cable was received from U.S. observers abroad giving the Russian position. It quoted L. I. Sedov as saying: "One must remember that in contrast to other branches of science, space research is closely interwoven with military science and technology."

Yet on the same day the cable arrived, Assistant Defense Secretary Rubel delivered a speech in answer to the Air Force, deprecating the military role of outer space.

"Sometimes it's said that space will be the battleground of the future," Rubel declares, "where decisive battles will be fought to decide the fate of the earth-bound people below. . . ."

"Whichever nation can get to the moon first, it is said, possesses an overwhelming military and psychological advantage."

The top research chief then dismissed this kind of thinking as "a set of notions that might be called the mystique of space. . . . if you are going around with your head in the clouds, you'd better keep your feet on the ground," he advised space thinkers.

His speech, OK'd by superiors in the Pentagon, sounded very much like Sherman Adams' advice to the nation right after the Eisenhower administration was caught unprepared in outer space by the Soviet Sputnik in October, 1957.

"The United States is not interested in serving a high score in a basketball game in outer space," quoth Sherman Adams.

NOTE—The Air Force contends that just as the British navy kept the British Empire supreme for 100 years, so military control of outer space will keep the nation that has it supreme during the coming century.

Nixon Looking Up As Presidential Bet

SAN FRANCISCO—With about 10 days of active campaigning to go before the election, Democrats in California are running scared. As the balance, according to many small indicators, tips in favor of Richard Nixon and against Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, their fears are not so much for 1962 as for '64 and the cloud no bigger than a man's hand on that distant horizon.

The Democrats have 34 of the state governorships, the Republicans 16. Schools, highways, recreation areas—these and innumerable other services are the demand on each governor as the population explodes. At the same time most citizens complain bitterly about mounting local and state taxes.

What would count most heavily, casting a long shadow in the direction of the presidency and '64, would be the loss of governors in the big-city states. New York will in all probability remain Republican with the re-election of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. If Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio—and California—should also end up in the Republican column, the political picture would be completely altered.

For it is these big-city states with their harvest of electoral votes that decide presidential elections, as 1960 proved.

Nixon's defeat would remove him from an active, office-seeking role in politics. He would return to the Los Angeles law practice in which, he boasts, he makes more income in a year and a half than he received in 14 years of government service. But if he is elected—his campaign manager predicts a majority of 400,000—he will once again be a power in his party and in the nation. That is what, in the light of 1964, makes the election in this the most populous of the 50 states so important.

Defeated two years ago by a squeak of some 150,000 votes, Nixon has sworn that, if elected, he will serve out his four years as governor. Giving him a score of 100 for sincerity as of today, the former vice-president will be under pressures that may well prove to be irresistible.

Half his party detests Rockefeller and the other half fears and detests Sen. Barry Goldwater. That is roughly the balance between moderate and right, and Nixon is the perfect swing man. He will be 50 years old in January, shortly after he is inaugurated as governor—if he is inaugurated. The waiting game, should it be prolonged, is a hazardous game. If Rockefeller were to be nominated and elected in 1964, Nixon would in all likelihood have to wait until 1972.

The shrewd young men around Nixon pooh-pooh this. They say that Rockefeller has already moved so far and with such calculation that he is certain to get the nomination. You have to, they add, want it in order to get it. But recent events, notably in the instance of Adlai Stevenson in 1952, disproved that.

In the meantime, he is demonstrating in his California campaign how an out runs against the ins. The formula is: condemn and condemn and condemn and promise and promise and promise. The fact that this is a striking reversal of 1960, when Nixon had perforce to run on the Eisenhower record, has not escaped the pros. The Nixon campaign should go down as a small classic in the political science textbooks.

Patchwork Prairie Country

Tonight I felt rather smug as I set a unique dish upon the table, then cast sidewise glances at The Farmer to see if he too thought the food was unique. The dish might best be described as a variation of American beef stew except that it originated in Punjab, India, and the recipe was given to me by a fellow faculty member from India.

The Farmer, being of Irish descent, thinks only of Irish stew. However, when it is made by his Scandinavian cook, the dish does not come out true to Irish taste. But when an Indian stew is made by a Scandinavian cook and served to an Irishman, India, Denmark and Ireland have a right to rise up in arms and protest!

Nevertheless I bore up bravely despite the fact that a stick of cinnamon escaped my sight and was spooned onto The Farmer's plate. The directions specifically stated to remove the bay leaves and stick cinnamon before serving.

But that was not my only mistake in serving the new meat dish — I had also forgotten the name of it. I told The Farmer we would eat the meat tonight and tomorrow night I would tell him what we had eaten for supper. He looked at me as if to say, "Tomorrow maybe be too late."

I have spent several pleasant evenings the past week reading the new book of poems by Robert Frost. "In The Clearing." One I especially liked is titled "Pod of the Milkweed." It's so good to end a day with a bit of verse. These two lines brought a smile to my rather dour countenance as I washed the dishes tonight, and made lighter of my work: "Forgive, O Lord, my little jokes on Thee And I'll forgive Thy great big one on me."

If Mr. Frost could only know he made a farm wife in the Midwest smile with sheer gladness while washing dishes, I am certain he would think he had written a masterpiece.

Very few things are funny while scrubbing pots and pans alone at night in the kitchen.

One of the big grocery stores I visited Saturday displayed a clown of gigantic proportions. I was unaware that the clown was behind me, for he was deflated and attracted little or no attention in the crumpled heap. Then a motor started to buzz. Slowly the great bulk of a head and shoulders began to fill with air. The arms stretched out and the body slowly rose to tower above me. One little boy beside me was spellbound. The taller the clown grew, the bigger his eyes became. Finally the world about him had grown to such outlandish proportions that he began to cry. His mother tried to comfort him but it was not until the motor stopped buzzing and the clown began to deflate that he could see through the tears.

When I left the scene, the motor was buzzing again and the small boy was heading in the opposite direction. His pace was quite speedy. I surmised that he intended to get as much distance between himself and the clown as time would allow.

All the children did not become frightened. Some thought the big clown, puffing out like the storybook frog about to croak, was hilariously funny. I later heard strains of laughter coming from the clown. One little girl didn't want to leave the clown, but her mother managed to tug her along by the hand. To some children, the world of make-believe is delightful — to others it is frightening.

From far away, I heard a strange call . . . the call of the wild geese . . . and I knew with the chill winds blowing about this evening that winter is closing in around us. The wild fowl know as much about the changing seasons as man with all his fancy weather gadgets. I would much rather see them go north in the spring. There's a certain foreboding about Indian summer and flying geese.

Same Rights

Alexandria, Neb.
"Separate educational facilities are inherently unequal." So said the Supreme Court, meaning all schools are not equally good. They went on to say this meant any Negro is constitutionally entitled to go to the white school.

But what of the white students who go to the less good white schools? Do they not have the right to go to the better white school, even if, like Meredith, they are unwelcome and it would require marshals and bayonets and tear gas to get them in and keep them there? Is the Constitution to be stretched for the benefit of Negroes only?

Good Team

Crete, Neb.
Mr. Drew Pearson said Mr. Hruska was for the big insurance companies. Mr. Curtis is another honorable senator who wouldn't help the farmer or the small businessman. They can't tip them off like the big drug companies and the insurance companies. The people in Nebraska should pull themselves together and vote for the Democratic party. We have some mighty good men running for office.

Mr. Beermann says that at least two million farmers should leave the farms so we can get rid of the surplus. Now, I would like to have Mr. Beermann say what those two million farmers are going to do in the cities when we have four or five million people out of work already. Senator Hruska and Senator Curtis are a pretty good team. Usually they pull to the right. Why don't they pull to the left sometimes?

Mr. Curtis voted against the Social Security bill. I wonder why. I bet everybody who is old enough to get Social Security checks would scream if he had to turn his back on them. Yet all these people support a man who voted against that bill. Let's all get out and vote for Governor Morrison, the man who is trying to do something for Nebraska.

A DEMOCRAT

Against Strong Mayor

Lincoln, Neb.
The Citizens' Movement finds many objections to the strong mayor plan. Four years are too long. In four years a weak mayor could let the city government drift into chaos. A strong mayor whose interests were with the pressure groups could work havoc with the rights and liberties of the people.

A capable businessman is busy. Any man who is able to manage a city is engaged in business on his own. Will he leave it, full time, for four years? Most executives will not. Far from broadening the field of candidates, this change restricts it to men of second-rate ability, or to political "experts" from questionable sources.

Governmental divisions are not separated. Under the strong mayor plan, the mayor has power to veto acts of the council. The council has power to pass a measure over the mayor's veto. This makes for friction and antagonism, a condition not undesirable for good government. Under our present plan, the mayor and council discuss a proposition and vote on it together. Whether it is accepted or rejected, the majority rules.

A four-year term is not needed. A program that won't start in less than four years probably should not start at all. A mayor who must have four years to gain the cooperation of those who work with him isn't the man for the job.

Our present government is good. We submit that seven people, working together, will come nearer to expressing the will of the people than one, even though that one be given dictatorial powers.

Our city is beautiful just as it is, just as it has been developing for a hundred years. We do not need a strong mayor. We need more people to appreciate what we have.

Amendment No. 6

Lincoln, Neb.
On November 6, the Nebraska voters may vote for the proposed Amendment No. 6 which gives the legal profession and their commissions the power to select judges. Anyone preferring the voters' choice may vote against the amendment and leave the election of Nebraska judges as it now stands.

Our judicial and legislative branches have already been voted out of politics. If the Nebraska voters now start surrendering their voting rights as well, we may soon discover that we have destroyed the two-party system and voting rights as well in Nebraska.

Men With Future

Lincoln, Neb.
I watched a television program a few days ago and was thrilled to see Nebraska's gubernatorial race picked for national importance.

I do not share the feeling that in electing Fred Seaton, we might be helping him to become a candidate for vice president. It is about time we start electing men who have a future.

More Low-Cost Housing Needed For Elders

By ROBERT PETERSON

Folks often write this column and ask what can be done to secure better housing for older people in their neighborhoods.

They say they have read about shiny, efficient, low-cost apartments and group residences for seniors in many parts of the country, and they wonder why in the world the ill-housed elders in their areas can't have similar housing.

The answer is that they can. And it's not such a difficult trick to turn. If you can assemble a list of 20, 30, or 40 older people in your community who are living in inadequate housing, or in housing which they cannot afford, you will be taking the first big step toward meeting the need. Your next step is to contact non-profit organizations or private builders and talk them into applying for loans which are available for this purpose.

There are two plans which non-profit groups, such as churches or fraternal groups, can use in securing funds.

First, there's the direct loan program under which non-profit private groups may apply for three-and-a-half per cent, 50 year loans from the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

To get such a loan the group must submit evidence of actual need for such housing. They must have sufficient funds to buy a building site, employ an architect, have blueprints made, and buy furnishings and movable equipment for the proposed structure. And they also need enough money in the bank to cover 25 per cent of the building's operating budget for the first year. That's it. If their application is approved they are eligible to receive a loan covering the full cost of actual construction of the housing project.

Second, the Federal Housing Administration offers a plan under which Uncle Sam insures the full cost of mortgage loans which a non-profit group may borrow from a bank for the purpose of constructing housing for the elderly.

Here again, the group must present evidence of the need for housing, and they must have funds to buy a site and employ an architect. Then they merely go to a bank and find whether a loan can be obtained at a maximum of five-and-a-quarter per cent for 40 years. If such a loan can be secured, all the group has to do is give its plans to a builder so that exact costs can be determined and then submit the application to the nearest FHA office.

Private, profit-making firms can also get mortgage insurance from FHA covering 90 per cent of the cost of housing projects created specifically for elders. That's how dynamic Ross W. Cortese, 45, got the millions to create "Leisure World" at Seal Beach, Calif., which is the world's largest co-operative apartment development in the world for older people.

If it's this easy, you may ask, why isn't more low cost housing for older people being constructed? The answer seems to be that many non-profit groups are lazy when it comes to taking direct action in solving social problems. And many private builders haven't bothered because they seem to find more profits in other forms of construction.

Beermann Attacks Federal Spending

Fremont (UPI) — "The Democrat administration is burning up taxpayer dollars like a prairie fire," Rep. Ralph F. Beermann, (R-Neb) said here Monday.

Beermann, candidate for Congress in the First District, addressed a Dodge County fund raising meeting and told the gathering "President Kennedy already has added 175,000 employees to the federal payroll and this is just the beginning."

That total, Beermann said, is equal to the entire population of Lincoln, Grand Island and Fremont. The total employees added is 6 times the population of Fremont, he added.

"We need more Republicans in Congress with courage to stand up and fight the socialist planners that would spend and regulate us into oblivion," Beermann said.

Council Tables Zoning Law

... FOR DENSE HOUSING L TO O, 18TH TO 26TH

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The City Council killed an ordinance for high-density apartment housing zoning of 18th to 26th, L to O, by a vote for indefinite postponement Monday.

Last week, the council had okayed the same zoning (E Multiple Dwelling District) for the 25th and N site of a proposed $1.3 million apartment building, but deferred action on the larger area for further planning commission report.

The commission reaffirmed its recommendation for rezoning of the larger area Monday, but recommended against extending the zoning into J to L, 18th to 27th.

Not Enough Votes
Councilman Robert Fulton, who had introduced the re-zoning ordinance, moved for indefinite postponement, observing that zoning "is badly needed, but I don't think it has the required (council) votes."

The killed ordinance would have doubled the permissible land density of the area now zoned for "D Multiple Dwelling District" use.

The proposed ordinance would have permitted one living unit for every 500 square feet of land area as compared with the present standard of 1,000 square feet.

In other action, the council called for public hearings Nov. 5 on two proposed sidewalk districts that have been pending for some weeks.

They are Sidewalk District No. 5 for 31st from Calvert to Sheridan and Sidewalk District No. 6 for Cotner from Randolph to O and Cotner Blvd. from 56th to O.

Other Action
Council action on other ordinances:

Introduced, 1st Reading
—sewer district for Prescott from 31st to 33rd, South Gate Circle west of 33rd, 31st from Prescott to Loveland, Loveland from 31st to 33rd, 32nd from Loveland to Pioneers Blvd. and Pioneers Blvd. from 31st to 33rd.

—water district for the same, above mentioned streets.
—vacating east-west alley between 8th and 9th, D and E.
—vacating part of 31st between N and the east-west alley 172 feet south of N.

—highway commercial zoning of an approximately 8-acre tract on the west side of U.S. 77 just south of the State Penitentiary grounds.
—municipal code amendment to prohibit the delivery of beer by distributors to taverns and retail outlets between 7 p.m. and 8 a.m. instead of 7 a.m.

Passed, 3rd Reading
—vacating part of north-south alley abutting Grace Methodist Church property at 27th and R. (The vacated portion will be re-located at the church's cost.)
—Paving District 1844 for Madison from 40th to 44th.
—Paving District 1843 for Franklin from 32nd to 33rd.

All council members were present for the regular meeting.

Sidewalk Parking Violations May Receive Further Study

The City Council may take another look at sidewalk parking violations over the city.

Several council members Monday called for a report on parking violations, "particularly the more critical ones," by parking lots and business property with off-street parking.

"We're requiring (sidewalk parking) barriers with new curb cuts," said Councilwoman Helen Boosalis. "Shouldn't we enforce the ordinance on existing parking lots or repeal it?"

Public Works Director D. L. Erickson said sidewalk parking barriers should be required, but said his department "has been confused" as to the council policy on the matter.

Councilman Lloyd Hinkley said Erickson's department "can't be blamed" for not enforcing sidewalk parking barrier requirements in view of lack of a definite council policy.

Erickson cited the Winthrop Road and Ryons shopping center as one of the worst areas of sidewalk parking encroachment.

Calling for some action on the problem, Mrs. Boosalis said "some places are so bad that the school children can't walk on the sidewalks because of parked cars."

The ordinance requires parking barriers at the property line to prevent parking or overhang of parked cars into the sidewalk space.

However, enforcement was left confused when the council took no action after several property owners moved parking barriers into the public sidewalk area or removed them entirely.

City To Try Out Colored Parking Meter Supports

The City Council Monday authorized a limited trial of colored parking meter poles for Lincoln.

Traffic Engineer Robert Holsinger suggested the poles be painted different colors to designate the time limit for the meters.

Holsinger said the colored poles are helpful to motorists and have been well accepted in other cities.

Council members agreed the colored poles should be tried on a limited basis before any final decision is made to their general use.

No specific colors were discussed, but Councilwoman Helen Boosalis suggested pastel shades should be used.

City Buys $28,000 Worth Of Equipment

The City Council purchased $28,000 worth of equipment, including 3 new police cruisers, from low bidders Monday.

Contracts were awarded to:

- T. S. McShane Co., Omaha, $10,693.75, for a front-end loader for the street department.
- International Harvester Co., $5,343.31, for 3 six-man pickup trucks for the park department.
- DuPont Chevrolet Co., $5,967, for 3 new police cruisers.
- O'Shea-Rogers Motor Co., $5,722.30, for two dump trucks for park department.

SOME QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT ARTHRITIS AND RHEUMATISM:

Q: Is there a proven cure for arthritis and rheumatism?
A: No. But physicians often can control the pain, the condition, or the crippling effects of even some advanced forms.

Q: What can I take to control my pain?
A: That depends on the severity of your condition. Physicians have prescribed steroids, gold salts, heat treatments, etc., for more advanced conditions...for minor conditions, simple analgesics such as aspirin.

Q: Which works best?
A: Again, it depends on your condition. Only your physician can tell you that.

Q: My condition is diagnosed as "minor arthritis." Aspirin helps, but is there anything I can take for temporary relief that is more effective?
A: There is a special tablet called DEFENCIN. It is a new and different analgesic for more effective pain relief.

Q: What makes DEFENCIN more effective?
A: DEFENCIN contains three highly effective medicines. They work together to produce a level of pain relief unsurpassed by ordinary pain tablets. Two of DEFENCIN's special ingredients have never before appeared in conventional pain tablets or pills. This unique combination of ingredients seems to make patients less aware of their pain. Your doctor would call it "raising the threshold of pain."

Q: You mean DEFENCIN does a different job against pain than aspirin or ordinary pain tablets?
A: Yes. Other pain tablets are all designed essentially to blunt pain. They do not act in the way DEFENCIN does and do not bring DEFENCIN's effective relief.

Q: What evidence is there of DEFENCIN's effectiveness?
A: Clinical studies, with detailed information from both doctors and those they treated reported that DEFENCIN was more effective in the great majority of cases. In fact, DEFENCIN gave complete relief of the pain in about one-third of the cases.

Q: Was DEFENCIN compared to aspirin in those studies?
A: Yes, and there was a far greater record of pain relief among those people who took DEFENCIN than those who took aspirin. (These studies included a "double-blind" test in which patients didn't know which medicine was which...not even the doctors knew until the results were recorded.)

Q: Is DEFENCIN safe?
A: Yes. Clinical tests confirm its safety. Naturally, as with any medicine for arthritic-like symptoms, a physician should be consulted immediately if pain persists or is severe, or there is noticeable redness, swelling, deformity or stiffness. In no event should you rely upon self-medication for more than ten days.

Q: Will DEFENCIN relieve simple headache, too?
A: Yes, and DEFENCIN is also effective in relieving many of the painful conditions associated with the common cold. It relieves the feverish feeling as well as aches and pains.

Q: Is DEFENCIN expensive? It certainly seems it would cost more than usual pain tablets.
A: DEFENCIN costs more than ordinary pain tablets...more than aspirin, for instance. Those who want DEFENCIN's extra effectiveness consider the few cents more per tablet reasonable. DEFENCIN's price is $1.00 for 24 tablets, $2.50 for 72 tablets.

Q: Returning to those test patients who took DEFENCIN under doctors' supervision...what specific relief did they say they got?

A: Some said pain was relieved. Many said they could reach, lift, bend, walk and move with greater freedom. In some cases, all painful symptoms were relieved.

Q: Where can I buy DEFENCIN?
A: At drug counters in every state. Look for the green and white cartons. DEFENCIN® is a fine product of Grove Laboratories, Inc.

Torchlight Parade By Young GOP Approved By City

The City Council Monday approved a special permit for a proposed Young Republicans torchlight parade Thursday, but without torchlights.

Safety Director Emmett Junge reported the city has not permitted political parades in the past except for the bi-partisan "get-out-the-vote" parade on election eve two years ago.

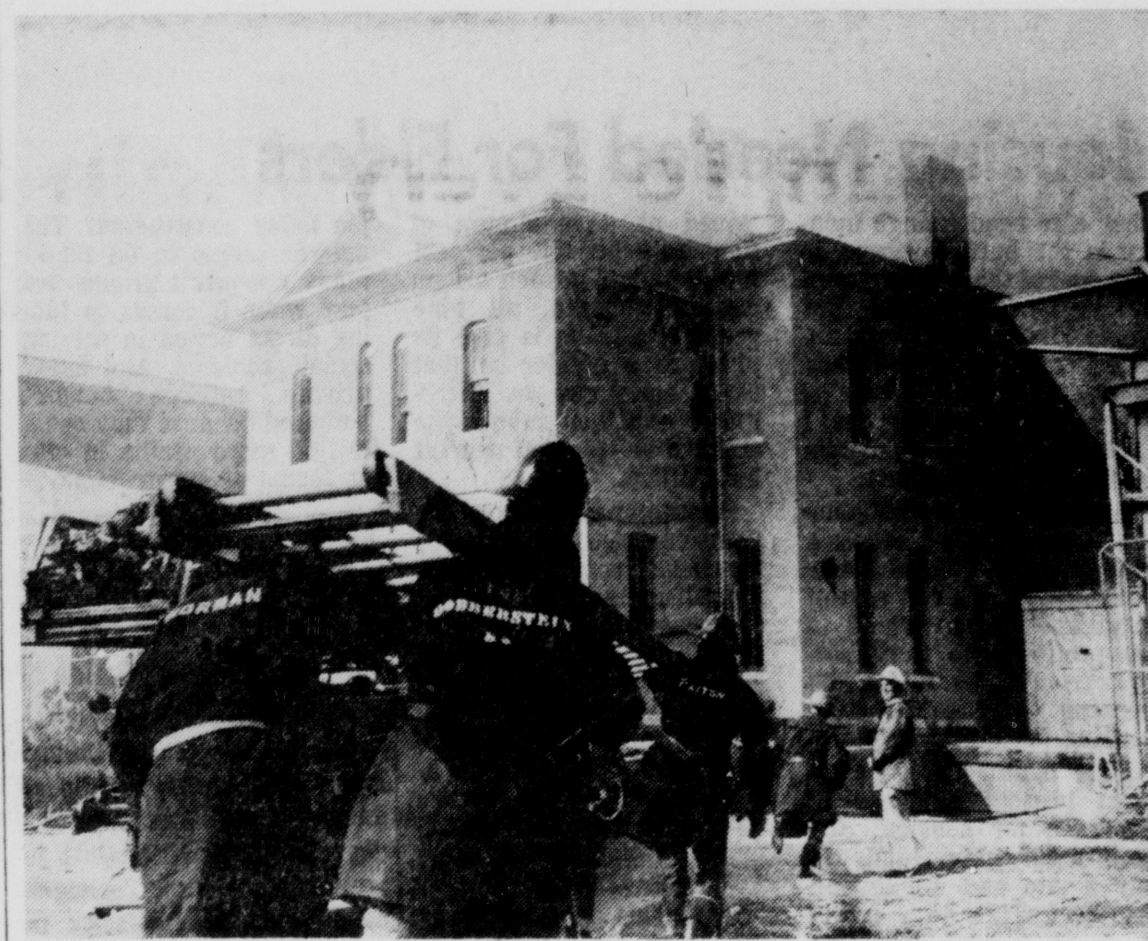

However, Junge advised the council that the parade, if approved, should follow a regular parade route and prohibit torchlights.

When several Republican members of the council jokingly questioned whether the Democrats would want "equal time" for a parade, a Democratic member quipped:

"I doubt whether the Democrats could raise the $5 parade permit fee."

Firemen Extinguish Own Blazes

Lincoln firemen Monday not only fought fires, but also set them.

Firemen went into action rapidly following a quick engine trip around the block after being informed the fire was burning in a building at 9th and T.

The fire was started under the direction of Chief Training Officer Don Venter, and Fire Chief Roscoe Benton sent his men into action.

The building, purchased by the University of Nebraska from the Northwestern Iron and Metal Co., is scheduled for demolition. The university gave permission for the fire department to use it for training purposes.

Regular Drill
Benton explained that the department is conducting "refresher drills." We have them every spring and fall, but this is the first time in many years we have been allowed to set a large building afire for this purpose.

The building was set ablaze 3 times Monday, and each time the fires were quickly extinguished.

"Sixteen to 20 men at a time will take turns on these runs during the 4-day exercises," Benton said. "This will enable every fireman to take part."

The chief also noted that the department's new two-way radios are being used for the first time. He called them "a real great improvement." They enable officials in a building to call for needed equipment without sending a messenger.

DEFENDANTS CALL OFFICIALS TO BE WITNESSES IN CITY'S SUIT

Lincoln city officials Monday were subpoenaed as witnesses in an injunctive suit against Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Reller and Mr. and Mrs. Rolie C. Johnson in Lancaster District Court.

The city is seeking to enjoin the defendants from alleged violations by the delegated commercial use of certain land near the Cornhusker Highway which the city contends is zoned for rural and public use.

The defendants subpoenaed Mayor Pat Boyles and the City Council, City-County Planning Commission members, and several other city officials.

City Atty. Ralph Nelson and several planning commission members were called to the witness stand Monday, but council members were excused to appear Tuesday.

Council members met in regular session Monday afternoon.

The injunctive suit for alleged violations by the defendants of Lincoln's zoning code is being heard before Judge Herbert Ronin.

Callan Takes Campaign To Every Main Street

EDITOR'S NOTE: Star political writer Don Walton has been spending a campaign day with each of the congressional and gubernatorial nominees. His story is 16th in a series by staff members on the November election.)

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer
Clair Callan's right hand is swollen and callused by 12 relentless, hard-driving weeks of intense person-to-person campaigning.
The 42-year-old First District Democratic congressional nominee is taking his case—and his friendly, relaxed manner—up and down every Main Street in the populous new 30-county eastern district.
He is passing out campaign cards and shaking hands with every customer and worker in every bank, barber shop and bar—and, of course, the myriad of local business establishments in between. Those who walk the streets or sit in cars parked downtown aren't overlooked either.

Callan was his party's congressional nominee for the first (and only previous) time in 1958 when he raised political eyebrows with a near-upset, ultimately losing to Rep. Phil Weaver by just 8,000 votes.

New District
But now the district is new (only 10 counties are the same)—and so is his opponent, Ralph Beermann (who KO'd Weaver in the May GOP primary).
Thus, in many ways, Callan has had to start again from scratch. But this time the political savvy he has acquired in 5 election campaigns (4 of them primaries) is paying off.

Callan is amassing a heavy accumulation of publicity through a steady stream of press releases; hundreds of his flashy signs and posters add color to the early autumn scene in eastern Nebraska; his name is known, and he is now a sure and confident campaigner.

Sweeping east out of Beatrice across Highway 136 toward Tecumseh one brisk, sunny October morning moved a 6-car motor caravan carrying 26 workers—the candidate and 25 of his friends and neighbors from little Odell (pop. 358).
A loudspeaker projected radio music (and a Folgers Coffee ad) across the wide streets of Tecumseh and echoing through the town square.

Volunteer Army
Posters and leaflets in hand, the volunteer army swarmed in every direction stapling, pasting, taping, placing—and adding their personal endorsement for Clair Callan.

The candidate poked a hand at the farmer in overalls in front of the grocery store; compared notes with a fellow appliance dealer; shook the mitt of a barber shop customer who struggled to find his way out from under the traditional white apron.
Callan and his busy band then saturated Auburn in two shifts—with the candidate cinching the vote of an Irish farmer who mistook the name on his campaign card for "Callahan."

By the time Callan reaches Nebraska City he has a new competitor—the 7th and deciding game of the World Series. Shops are suddenly and strangely vacant and swiftly scribbled "Back Soon" signs block several doors.

Undaunted
But the young Democrat moves on undaunted, easily negotiating the long main thoroughfare which connects this attractive river town with Iowa.

Now, here and there, people remember his father—John S.

Callan, the former state senator who was active in Nebraska politics for a quarter-century—and the path is cleared by memory of his dad.

Others recall young Callan himself when he played blocking back off the single wing at nearby Peru State Teachers College.

Only one man wants to talk issues: he doesn't like the President's action in Mississippi, or his inaction in Cuba or anything else about the young President for that matter. Callan patiently listens.

When he gets to Syracuse, he yields briefly to his competition—and broadcasts over the loudspeaker the radio account of the last thrilling inning as the Yanks hold off a last-ditch flurry by the Giants.

Vigorous Activity
His competitor disposed of, he moves with renewed vigor through this central Otoe County community, even succeeding in the dangerous task of halting a card game in the Main Street bar for a brief moment of handshaking.

Behind him, Callan hears the dealer call "good luck."
By the time he reaches Beatrice for an evening speech before the Business and Professional Women's Club, the flaming autumn sun is sinking beyond the horizon and a chill has once again gripped the air.

This is the way life has been for Clair Callan since August. He is convinced that what he calls "Beermann's negative philosophy" will damage the First District.

So he is hammering away at "the absolute necessity of a farm program to raise farm income," development of natural resources (including federal assistance for watersheds) and new industrial development, the potential of which is increased by trade expansion legislation, federal defense spending and other government activities.

Callan says a song explains it best: "Let's latch on to the affirmative; eliminate the negative."

CLAIR CALLAN

Cuban Spokesman Calls Blockade War Measure

Havana (UPI) — President Kennedy's decision to blockade Cuba was denounced Monday night by a top Castro government propagandist as "a war measure" that could "provoke events whose consequences might be tragic for the entire world."

The spokesman, Luis Gomez Vanguemert, a government newspaper and television commentator, warned that "we are not alone."

Speaking over the government television network he said Kennedy is "not taking seriously" the Soviet Union's pledge to defend the Fidel Castro regime.

He accused Kennedy of a "series of falsehoods whose object appears to be nothing less than preparing U.S. public opinion for new measures of direct aggression against Cuba."

But the spokesman exhorted the Cuban people to remain calm be resolved "to resist any direct aggression with all our strength and to perfect ourselves in the use of the arms we have so that President Kennedy will know — if it is necessary — what kind of stuff Cubans are made of."

Cubans can rest assured, he said, that "our government will take the appropriate measures."

There was a slight increase in the number of militia guarding banks, department stores and other buildings in Havana, but nothing that resembled a general mobilization.

Castro was expected to deliver his government's formal answer to the blockade Monday night in a nationwide address.

As the commentator spoke, loudspeakers, installed on the city's main streets, played government anthems and marching music.

There was no immediate statement from Premier Fidel Castro or the Cuban Foreign ministry. But Vanguemert, who is editor of the government controlled newspaper El Mundo, reflected official reaction to the Kennedy speech.

He informed the nation what Kennedy had said and declared the U.S. President was "ridiculous enough" to mention Mexico City as "the possible objective of these supposed intermediate range ballistic missiles, which according to Kennedy are sprouting in Cuba overnight."

Vanguemert said Kennedy "knows that it is impossible" to win Mexican support for any action against Cuba. But he charged that the American chief executive "wants to place (Mexican) President (Adolfo) Lopez Mateos—who recently said publicly that he expects no aggression from Cuba — in a difficult position."

CANADA BOOTS SOVIET PLANES

Ottawa (P) —Canada disclosed Monday night it has barred Soviet planes from using Canadian bases on flights to Cuba.

Exiles See U.S. Block As 1st Step

Miami (UPI) — Cuban exile leaders said Monday night a U.S. naval blockade of arms shipments to Cuba would be the "first step to liberation of the island."

Jose Miro Cardona, chairman of the Cuban Revolutionary Council and considered the top exile leader, said the 7-point program announced by the President will lead "to the necessary military action against the communist regime that enslaves the Cuban people and is a danger to the peace and the security of the Western Hemisphere."

He said the revolutionary council had requested a naval blockade against Cuba "as the first step for the liberation of the island."

Miami's colony of some 100,000 Cuban exiles, meanwhile, took the announcement of the program by Kennedy without any mass demonstrations. But the Cuban man-on-the street obviously hoped that the U.S. action would lead to the downfall of Fidel Castro.

Former Cuban president Carlos Prio Socarras called the President's "strong" statement "the beginning of the battle for the Cuban liberation."

U.S. Alerts Latins To Expect Hike In Terror

Mexico City (UPI) — The United States alerted Latin American governments Monday to expect an unprecedented wave of communist-organized terrorism in their countries, informed sources said.

The alert came even before President Kennedy's address to the American people, the sources said.

U.S. ambassadors in Latin American countries met with heads of state at the request of President Kennedy, apparently to warn them that the United States expected its action to touch off communist rioting throughout the hemisphere.

Word of the U.S. warning came after U.S. Ambassador Thomas C. Mann met unexpectedly here with acting Foreign Minister Jose Gorostiza.

(In Santiago, Chile, U.S. Ambassador Charles Cowles was granted a special interview with President Jorge Alessandri before Kennedy's speech.)

(In Washington, it was learned that Secretary of State Dean Rusk had called ambassadors of all friendly nations to meet with him, both before and after the president's speech.)

Details of the Mann-Gorostiza were not disclosed, but the U.S. embassy confirmed that they met.

The hemisphere conference of finance and economy opened here Monday.

It was learned here that at an informal conference of Latin American foreign ministers in Washington earlier this month, Secretary of State Dean Rusk told them that even with Soviet military help, Cuba could not resist for more than 5 or 6 hours in the event Cuba provoked direct U.S. military action.

But Rusk told them at that meeting, informed sources said, that the United States would not on its own launch an invasion of Cuba.

Hess Resigns Beatrice Fire Post

Beatrice — Fire Chief Cecil Hess has resigned after 42 years of service.

One of the city's most experienced employees, he joined the department in 1920 and became its head 10 years later. There are now 14 full-time men and 10 volunteers on his payroll.

The city council accepted the resignation, effective Nov. 1, "with deep appreciation for loyal service." He will receive a $215 monthly pension.

There was no mention of a successor, but this will be determined by the Civil Service committee. Two assistant chiefs now served under Hess. They are William Milke and Dale Workman.

Sidewalk Ordered

In other action, approximately 50 more blocks of sidewalks were ordered installed, which will come under revised specifications approved by the council. All walks must be 4 feet wide, have a one inch slope, be of Portland cement concrete, and be curbside unless permission is obtained otherwise.

The board of public works turned down a council request that its office resume opening on Saturday mornings. Resistance of clerical personnel plus inefficiencies said created by necessitated short shifts were cited as the main objections.

A proposed rate-cut in sewer-use fees for large industrial users brought a 4-4 vote and failed to pass.

Swift & Co. had requested the decrease, but its manager, said the new schedule still was higher than anticipated. The cut was from 11½ to 10c per thousand gallons, based on water used above 500,000 gallons. After rejecting the board of public works' proposal, the council voted to request its basis for the schedule and to ask Swift the rates in other cities.

Other action:

—accepted the $1,544 low bid of Penner Insurance Agency for automobile fleet insurance.

—accepted the bid of Crone Insurance Agency, the only one submitted, to supply workman's compensation insurance to employees.

—received bids of 3 firms on a ball-pickup for the electric company. Paul Henderson Motor Co. Inc. having the apparent low of $1,391.

—deferred a Chamber of Commerce beautification committee's request for permission to plant several city-owned lots for a state community improvement contest. The specific sites will be decided later.

—authorized installations of a 4,000-gallon gasoline tank by Wilke Baking Co. if approved by the board of public works.

NIPPY-NIGHT TIP

One last tip for trick or treat. Most popular treat in our neighborhood last Halloween: The lady who served hot instant cocoa to spine-tingling spooks. It warmed them, nourished them . . . and didn't cost the neighbor any more than she'd spent other years.

TENSE FOR TRIMMING

Now's the time to lose that pre-holiday bulge. Do this simple exercise any time, even when telephoning. Just tense your muscles, then relax them. Don't miss a muscle! Start from the toes, and work up. Do it several times, every time you think about it. Easy? Indeed. But it could give you a new figure.

QUICK CLEAN-UP

The party was wonderful . . . but oh, those dishes! Such a thankless task — till gas came along. Now dishes can be scraped and stowed in the gas dishwasher without so much as a rinsing. But they'll come out cleaner, thanks to the gas dishwasher's superior scrubbing action, and 180-degree germ-killing rinse. You might remind Santa (it's not too early) your local gas company and neighborhood gas appliance dealer has this superior dishwasher.

TILE IN STYLE

Tired of changing paper in shelves or drawers? Mrs. J. R. Wilkinson of Marshalltown, Ia., tiled her drawers to match her floors! Yup, you can do it. Use small ceramic tiles, linoleum tiles or sheets of tiles. Looks smart; stays sparkling with just an occasional damp cloth wipe-off.

SLEEVE STRETCHER

When little ones suddenly aren't so little, it almost takes a magician to keep their sleeves long enough. Meet Mrs. Vern (Magician) Daily of Nebraska! When youngsters outgrow their jacket sleeves, she lengthens them by sewing on knit cuffs . . . same color, or neatly contrasting.

AFTER THE BALL

The kids may never forget the Halloween party . . . but you may mostly remember the clean-up! Earlier, we noted the gas dishwasher. While that party helper's at work, turn on a second: your gas disposer. It gulps up nut-cups, half-eaten cookies, cores from caramel apples . . . even bones from the fried chicken. In so many wonderful ways, natural gas saves time and trouble. Aren't you glad Northern Natural Gas Company pipes this wonder-fuel to your local gas company . . . so they can send such convenience to you?

APPLE SPICE PIE

Sour cream, spice and apples . . . a new kind of apple pie, for October! Combine 1 pkg. apple-flavor gelatin, 2 tsp. cinnamon, and ½ tsp. nutmeg. Add 2 Tbsp. sugar. Dissolve mixture in 1 cup very hot water. Chill in gas refrigerator, till slightly thickened. Fold in 1 cup sour cream and 1 can (22 ounces) apple pie filling. Pour into baked pie shell. Chill till firm. Now you could garnish with whipped cream and maraschino cherries . . . or just serve it plain, and let its own fancy flavor glow through.

My club collection is making quite an impressive display these days: Book-of-the-Month Club, Assorted Press

Clubs. Key Clubs.

This is very important if you want to get your name in the papers. Especially when we pass to rewards. "He was a prominent club man . . ."

ion, I couldn't have got along without it. You tag off the pillar of the community—"He was a prominent clubman." Then you list the clubs.

Everybody says: "They said some nice things about Old Joe this morning."

If you are not a prominent clubman, you get very short words from the writing fraternity.

The job of polishing off the departed clubman is usually given to a burning youth. He yearns to have his words sizzle. He approaches it like Hemingway did the bullfights.

If he cannot find any clubs in your folder in the files, it frustrates his talent. And he will write you off in a paragraph.

Anyway, how do you get into a club right away? That is a good question.

The finest clubs to get into these days are the key clubs.

A key club is a posh saloon. Restricted to those who have keys to the door.

I remember P. J. Moriarty, the New York pubkeeper, took me to my first key club.

It was a three-story brownstone in the mid Fifties.

Each floor had a bar going. And everybody was congratulating himself on getting in.

The odd thing about this was you could walk half a block and go into ANY of a half dozen saloons. They would even hold the door open for you.

In the key club, you had to put up $50. Get somebody to introduce you and be screened as if you were applying to put your son in an exclusive boy's school. All this before they would so much as pour you a beer.

So you can join a key club. And immediately you are a prominent clubman.

It is a sort of double-barrelled good thing. Because you get all the juice of being exclusive while you are alive. And you get good notices when you fall out.

The key club idea came from a Chicago advertising man by name of Burton Browne. They have become so famous that important magazines like Fortune review them. Give the facts and figures and the same attention they give to U.S. Steel.

Browne started the first Gaslight Club in Chicago. And now they are all over the country and gradually moving into Europe. Europeans can't figure why you should make such a fuss of unlocking doors just to get a drink. But they are all for American progress. And it is catching on.

I forgot to say one of the major points in a key club is the waitresses. The waitresses wear black mesh stockings from thisaway to thataway and are the best looking cupcakes you ever saw.

That part of it in Europe, they understand.

Military Bases Move Into War-Time Gear

Miami (UPI) — Military bases in the southeast geared to war-time activity Monday night as ships, planes, munitions and troops were massed to back up the U.S. blockade at Cuba.

Even before President Kennedy announced the blockade, the Navy dispatched to the Caribbean an armada of warships from east coast ports stretching from Norfolk, Va., to Key West.

Other ships were made ready to put to sea to help enforce the embargo on offensive armaments for the island's communist regime. Shore patrolmen searched waterfront haunts at Jacksonville and Norfolk and ordered sailors to their ships.

All leaves at Key West were canceled and some of the vessels sailed from Norfolk with seamen hastily transferred from other duties to fill out their complement. Less than an hour after the President appeared before a nation-wide audience to explain the blockade, the first contingent of military dependents ordered evacuated from the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, began arriving at the Military Air Transport base at Norfolk.

The flights continued throughout the night and about 400 persons — mostly women and children — were expected there before dawn.

Tight-lipped officials of at least 3 railroad companies confirmed they had put on special troop trains, but refused to elaborate, saying, "the operation is highly classified."

A worker at the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad in Jacksonville, Fla., said traffic controllers had been ordered to give "red carpet treatment" — trainmen's jargon for priority movement — to 3 troop and equipment trains Tuesday.

Military aircraft moving into south Florida jammed Air Force and Navy airfields and the overflow was ordered to civilian airports. The sonic booms of jet fighters rattled windows in many sections of the Peninsula State Monday and kept residents jittery.

There were reports that civilian flights from McCoy Air Field at Orlando, Fla., a facility used jointly by military and civilian aircraft, were delayed because of the heavy traffic.

The Defense Department has not disclosed specifics about the military buildup and ship dispersion, but this much is known:

—thirteen submarines and 5 destroyers put to sea from Key West.

—6 other destroyers left Jacksonville, Fla., Monday and two others departed Sunday.

—several destroyers were dispatched from the Charleston, S.C., Navy Base, but officials declined to specify the number.

—a self-sustaining battalion of about 5,000 Marines was moved to Key West over the weekend.

—additional aircraft were flown into Key West and Patrick Air Force Base at Cape Canaveral and virtually every Air Force base in the southeast reported increased activity.

—a line of what appeared to be radar picket ships moved into the Florida Straits — the narrow strip of water separating the United States from Cuba.

Washington (UPI) — President Kennedy sent a letter to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev informing him of the U.S. action against Cuba, officials said Monday night.

The letter's implication left the door open for Kennedy-Khrushchev talks, officials said. But the President let it be known—as he said in his nationwide speech—his view in effect that "it is difficult to settle or even discuss these problems in an atmosphere of intimidation."

GUANTANAMO EVACUEES

Mrs. Mary Chapman and her daughter, Kathie, 12, were among 233 dependents of United States personnel at the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo, Cuba, who were flown to Norfolk, Va., Monday night aboard Marine Corps troop transports. Mrs. Chapman is the wife of Lt. Cmdr. George Chapman, of Washington.

West Germany Backs U.S.

... OTHER ALLIES PLAN FURTHER STUDY

By United Press International
West Germany immediately gave its support to the U.S. blockade of Cuba Monday night. The rest of the Allies withheld any moves pending further study.

Advance notice of the American moves went to Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain, President Charles de Gaulle of France and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Only Bonn spoke out at once.

"The federal (German) government welcomes the determination of the American government to meet the dangers arising from this situation," a government press spokesman said in Bonn.

In London, Macmillan called a cabinet meeting for Tuesday to discuss the blockade and its effect on the British ships which have been trading with Cuba.

Pending this session, the foreign office would say only that "revelation of the Soviet buildup in Cuba will come as a shock to the world."

Britain, traditionally a strict interpreter of freedom of the seas, faced a difficult decision of principle.

One London newspaper, the Daily Mirror, said in a pre-speech editorial, "the world would be nearer to war than at any time since 1939" if the U.S. Navy stops Russian vessels on the high seas.

In London the foreign office revealed that Macmillan had been personally briefed at mid-day by U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce.

"British ministers will consider the matter further in the morning," the foreign office statement said, and there would be no additional comment.

It was just on midnight in Europe when President Kennedy began speaking.

Foreign ministers of the 6 European Common Market nations broke up a night session in Brussels, Belgium, early to listen to a direct broadcast from Washington. They generally declined comment on the Kennedy declaration pending talks Tuesday morning.

A Brussels dispatch said that unofficially the European ministers assembled there showed no surprise at the "quarantine" of Cuba.

From the Hague, Holland, however, came unofficial expressions of concern.

Parliamentary sources voiced the hope that U.S. ac-

GOP ISSUE BLUNTED

Washington (UPI) — GOP campaign strategists conceded both publicly and privately Monday night that President Kennedy to some extent had blunted one of their best campaign issues for the Nov. 6 election.

"Cuba is still going to be an issue," said one key Republican. "But there is no question that Kennedy has taken some of the edge off it."

Speaking for the record, Senate Republican whip Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., said foreign policy was no longer an issue in the campaign.

Kuchel, whose plane arrived late and who missed a meeting Kennedy held with legislators before his television appearance, said that "so far as foreign policy is concerned, politics has adjourned."

It also was adjourned for Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson. The White House said both men had cancelled all further campaign appearances for the 1962 elections because of the Cuban situation.

This means that Kennedy is dropping appearances in nearly a dozen states between now and the Nov. 6 balloting. Politics also adjourned, at least for a few days, for some of the congressional leaders Kennedy summoned to Washington and whom he asked to remain in the Capital while because of the Cuban crisis.

Among them was Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, against whom Kennedy had campaigned in Springfield, Ill., and Chicago last Friday.

Also among them was House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, who had been among GOP officials who assailed Kennedy in the past on Cuba policy.

It was in Halleck's state—but in a speech aimed plainly at Sen. Homer E. Capehart, Republican also running for re-election—that Kennedy two weeks ago called for "speaking softly but carrying a big stick."

The President in an Indianapolis speech denounced "self-appointed generals and admirals who want to send someone else's sons to war" in a clear reference to GOP campaign demands for a blockade or even an invasion of Cuba.

Cuba had been developing into the surprise issue of the 1962 election campaign. Republican candidates in many areas have been voicing demands for a tougher stand against the Castro regime.

And, according to reports reaching campaign headquarters here, this stand has been hitting a responsive chord with the voters.

JFK Informs Nik Of Action

Washington (UPI) — President Kennedy sent a letter to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev informing him of the U.S. action against Cuba, officials said Monday night.

The letter's implication left the door open for Kennedy-Khrushchev talks, officials said. But the President let it be known—as he said in his nationwide speech—his view in effect that "it is difficult to settle or even discuss these problems in an atmosphere of intimidation."

Cuba Alerts All Troops

Miami (UPI) — The Cuban government ordered its armed forces on an immediate alert Monday night following President Kennedy's speech, Havana Radio said.

At the same time Cuban radio stations were ordered on 24-hour continuous service, presumably to relay any necessary government military communications across the island.

Announcement of the alert was broadcast over a Havana radio broadcast monitored here.

(In Havana, Cubans with short-wave radio sets listened to Kennedy's address but the majority of the population was unable to hear it, and there was no immediate news about it on government-controlled news broadcasts.

(However, the speech was anticipated. The evening newspaper La Tarde published a front page announcement saying: "A surprise announcement that John Kennedy will speak today."

President's Seven-Point Cuba Blockade Program

Washington (UPI) — Here is President Kennedy's 7-point program in proclaiming a U.S. Naval quarantine against Cuba:

1. The United States, "to halt this offensive buildup" in Cuba, is imposing "a strict quarantine on all offensive military equipment under shipment to any kind of Cuba."

All ships of any kind bound for Cuba are to be turned back if they are found to contain cargoes of offensive weapons. This embargo also will be extended to "other carriers" if need be—meaning airplanes.

2. Surveillance of Cuba and its military buildup will be stepped up, and the U.S. armed forces have been ordered "to prepare for any eventualities."

3. U.S. policy will be to regard any nuclear missile launched from Cuba against any nation in the Western Hemisphere as an attack by Russia on the United States requiring full retaliation against the Soviet Union.

4. The U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo, on the eastern tip of Cuba, has been reinforced. U.S. dependents there have been evacuated and additional military units have been ordered to stand by on alert.

5. An immediate meeting of the Organization of American States (OAS) has been called to "consider this threat to hemispheric security" and to invoke the inter-American defense pact provisions "in support of all necessary action."

6. The United States is asking for an emergency meeting of the United Nations Security Council without delay. The United States will call for "the prompt dismantling and withdrawal of all offensive weapons in Cuba" before it lifts the blockade.

7. Kennedy called on Soviet Premier Khrushchev "to halt and eliminate this clandestine, reckless and provocative threat to world peace."

U.S. 77 Location Still Pondered

CITY AND COUNTY OPPOSE STATE PROPOSAL

The State Highway Commission Monday decided, after listening to more than two hours of testimony, to consider further the realignment of U.S. 77 southwest of Lincoln. City and county officials voiced strong opposition to a proposed State Highway Department relocation of the highway.

Hugh Dillon, Lancaster County engineer, proposed an alternate plan, which would locate the highway two miles west of its present location.

Dillon's plan called for a 4-lane diagonal highway beginning a half mile south of the State Penitentiary on 14th St., swinging southwest to the Centerville road by Yankee Hill and south to the Crete road.

Solve Hazards Dillon said his plan would solve a number of current and future traffic hazards.

The Highway Department proposed a similar 4-lane swing, but would cut back to U.S. 77 a half mile south of the "turnpike corner" and continue with extra two lanes running parallel to the highway to the Crete corners.

Dillon's plan would include a straight road into Beatrice, which would eliminate some dangerous jogs and railroad crossings and make the distance between Lincoln and Beatrice one mile shorter.

The commission and those appearing on behalf of the Dillon plan agreed that a 4-lane relocation immediately south of the penitentiary would be justified.

Dillon believes his plan would also have merit in future plans for connecting U.S. 77 with the Interstate Highway, a connection which, he said, could be built with less expense and a better route.

Nearer

Under Dillon's proposal, Crete and Wilber would become two miles nearer Lincoln, while another mile would be cut from the distance between Lincoln and towns south.

Such a route would mean the county would maintain the road.

Supporting the Dillon plan were E. J. Faulkner, chairman of the City-County Planning Commission; Joe R. Seacrest, managing editor of the Lincoln Journal; Hal Schroder, representing Salt-Wahoo Watershed District; State Sen. Joe T. Vosoba of Wilber; and Carl Fisher, Lincoln city engineer.

Harry Cropsey, rural Lincoln farmer, also appeared

Woman Injured In Car Crash Dies

Deshler (P) — Mrs. Clara Stauffer, 69, who was injured in a car crash Oct. 4, died Monday afternoon in Fillmore County Hospital in Geneva.

She was the wife of A. E. Stauffer, former publisher of the Deshler Rustler.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stauffer had been hospitalized since the collision which occurred two miles north of Geneva.

Funeral services were pending.

Relatives said Mrs. Stauffer's death apparently was the result of her accident injuries. If so, it would be the 307th traffic fatality in Nebraska this year compared with 268 on the same date a year ago.

before the commission and noted that if the Highway Department's plan was followed "a lot of good land would be taken."

The Highway Department's plan would cut across Cropsey's land, but the Dillon plan would transcend north of his property.

The commission said it will give the Dillon plan "careful consideration" and advise those concerned of its intentions at the commission's next meeting.

State 39 Routed West To Favor Silver Creek

The State Highway Commission Monday approved the western relocation route of Neb. 39 and thus gave new life to Silver Creek's only industry—Grosch Industries, an irrigation firm.

Representatives from the Silver Creek area had appeared before the commission earlier in the day requesting that the western relocation route be selected over 3 other proposed routes.

James Shambert, attorney representing Grosch Industries, explained that if the western route weren't selected the firm would be forced to close its doors and "Silver Creek would be hurt economically."

The firm employs 18, mostly Silver Creek residents.

Wallace Strong of rural Silver Creek voiced opposition to the western route, but agreed that the highway had to go somewhere. Any highway construction project involves a little give and take from both sides, and if due notice is given me that the western route has been approved, I will not dispute that action," he said.

Cut Off Track Strong opposed the relocation because he said it would cut off the northeast corner of his race track and force him either to discontinue his racing business or move.

The Highway Department had proposed 4 relocation routes, but the western most passage was most favorable because it would extend the life of Grosch's.

The firm is now assured of at least two to five more years existence on its present location.

However, the commission proposes to construct an overpass near the plant sometime in the future" and this move would force Grosch Industries either to relocate or fold up.

Other Business Earlier, the commission reported it plans to hold a hearing on a proposed minor route relocation of about 7 miles of Interstate located some 3 miles south of York. The slight relocation is being proposed to make right-of-way for the superhighway easier there. The commission said it will probably hold the hearing before its next meeting Nov. 26.

The commission also took action approving:

—a minor relocation of Nebraska 23 to eliminate a sharp curve east of Wallace.

—a relocation of about 5 miles of Nebraska 23 4 miles west of Crawford. The slight shift is designed for better alignment of the road.

—a relocation of about 5.2 miles of Nebraska 8 from Salem west to eliminate some curves and generally improve the alignment.

—the acquisition of right-of-way on either side of a portion of Nebraska 40 between Sumner and Miller to improve and widen the road.

Nelson Man Dies In One-Car Crash

Leroy Keith, 45, of Nelson, died in a one-car accident 5 miles west of Fairfield on State 74.

The State Safety Patrol said Keith, blinded by oncoming lights, ran off the road and smashed into the end of a culvert. The accident happened shortly before midnight.

Seaton's Highway Statements Said 'Untrue'

Nebraska Highway Advisory Commission Chairman J. R. McBride of Minden said Monday that statements about Nebraska's highway program made by Fred Seaton, Republican candidate for governor, were "ridiculous and untrue."

McBride, a Democrat, was not present at the commission's regular monthly meeting Monday at the State Capitol because he was confined to his home with a back ailment. His statement was sent to Gov. Frank Morrison's office and released by that office.

"Nebraska now has a highway program that is a model for all other states," McBride said, adding: Gov. Morison is entitled to full credit—personal credit—for pulling the highway program together and getting it into high gear.

"Admittedly, Nebraska started slow in the Interstate program. But there is no better proof of the success of the Morrison administration than the fact that Nebraska could now complete its Interstate two years ahead of schedule.

"Nebraska has the greatest highway construction program in the history of the state—1,153 miles in this biennium. To imply that this is failure is to insult the intelligence of the people of Nebraska."

"Seaton has said that $30 million of federal funds are lying unused. This is an absolute falsehood," McBride said.

"Seaton has said that Nebraska ranks 49th in miles of hardsurfaced highways. This is an absolute falsehood," he continued.

"Seaton has apparently been so out of contact with Nebraska that he doesn't know nor understand our Highway Department and its progress."

It is the season of feast or famine, socially speaking. In the category of feast was the past weekend where everything was happening. In town a football game and its attending festivities—in Omaha the Ak-Sar-Ben activities which, by the way, took many Lincoln people to the not-too-far away city where they were spectators at the coronation or, on Saturday evening, to the Coronation Ball.

But it is not of football or the Ak-Sar-Ben that we are speaking this morning. We have in mind a party held on Sunday evening at the Lincoln Country Club for which the members of a golf group were hosts and hostesses. We hasten to add that the party had nothing to do with football, Ak-Sar-Ben or, for that matter, golf. It originally was planned to honor a July bride and bridegroom—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wilson (she is the former Sharon Schnase of Gibbon), but honors were shared with Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Carveth who have just arrived from Rochester, Minn., where Dr. Carveth has completed his work at the Mayo Clinic. The golf group hosts and hostesses included Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Walt, Dr. and Mrs. Norman Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Carveth, Mr. and Mrs. Max Roper, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dobson.

Actually the Sunday evening affair is a tradition. Whenever the sons or daughters—or both—of the golf group members marry, there is a party. There also is a traditional pre-Christmas party for members of the group and their families. This year the pre-holiday event will take place on Nov. 16.

But back to last Saturday and the Ak-Sar-Ben. The coronation and the ball brought back memories to Mr. and Mrs. W. Richard Baker who were among the coronation spectators. Mrs. Baker served as a countess from Burwell in the Ak-Sar-Ben Court of 1957. She is the former Karen Banks, Alpha Xi Delta at Nebraska.

A New York City friend has sent us a clipping from the Sunday, Sept. 23 issue of the New York Times which casts a beam of reflect glory on Lincoln, the Lincoln Junior League and the Nebraska State Historical Society.

The New York Times gave a big spread under a five column head, and with a sizeable picture, to the restored William Jennings Bryan Home. 'Mansion of the Great Commoner Preserved' says the headline. The story, written by Robert Pearman, tells us what we already knew—but New Yorkers didn't—about the restoration of the old Bryan home. The article also goes into the life of the Bryan family during their residence in Lincoln—gives the cost of the then so-called mansion ($10,000), and informs travelers on U.S. 36 and 6, and Interstate 80, that they 'can visit the Bryan home by turning south on 48th street in Lincoln, and driving to Summer Street. The story even gives the visiting hours. Lincoln thanks you, Mr. Pearman—the Junior League thanks you, and we are sure the Nebraska State Historical Society salutes you.

Away back in the beginning when we mentioned that the past weekend was a feast from an activity standpoint, we certainly were not ignoring the coming weekend and the Lincoln Symphony Guild's Head-dress Ball. This gala event is to be held on Saturday evening at Hotel Lincoln.

EASTRIDGE

Busy is as busy does, and there's no doubt about it, Eastridge is busy! Anniversaries, birthday parties, coffees, homecomings, and trips out of town are all in the news this week.

Celebrating their 18th wedding anniversary last Tuesday evening were Cmdr. and Mrs. E. B. Rogers. Dinner began the celebration which was rounded out with an evening at the Community Playhouse production of Tea-house of the August Moon.

Another party in Eastridge last week was for Miss Cam McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKee, who is now six years old. Cam celebrated her birthday at her home last Thursday afternoon with her brother, Gary, and five neighborhood friends.

Those on hand for the traditional birthday cake, ice cream, and games were Larry Shepard, Sondie Leising, Lori Marshall, Johnny Ferrell, and Timmy Poppe.

A coffee in Eastridge last week was given by Mrs. Dale E. Fahrbruch in honor of County Commissioner candidate, Ralph E. Harlan. Twenty-five neighborhood housewives were at the Fahrbruch home on Wednesday afternoon to meet the honored guest.

Returning from a week's vacation in Missouri a week ago were Mr. and Mrs. B. Bruce Watts. Mr. and Mrs. Watts were houseguests in Warrensburg, Independence, and Kansas City during their visit "slightly south."

In Warrensburg, they were guests of Mrs. Watts' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Utz. On to Independence and to the home of their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Russell Watts. The last stop was in Kansas City, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schaefer, who are Mrs. Watts' son-in-law and daughter.

Dana College alumni headed "home" this weekend, and among the Blair-bound travelers were Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Hansen. Homecoming activities for the Hansens included Saturday's football game and banquet.

And Eastridge has a new junior miss—very junior. Little Miss Jill Maureen Tuttle, born Oct. 11th, is the neighborhood's newest addition. Jill, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Don Tuttle, has a sister, Dawn, and a brother, Jack. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Watson of Pueblo, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tuttle of Canyon City, Colo.

Mrs. C. E. McElbogue of Des Moines, Iowa, Mrs. Tuttle's aunt, is paying a "helping hand visit" at the Tuttle home this week.

Leaving Eastridge Saturday for a short visit in Chicago, Ill., were Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKee. Mrs. McKee is accompanying her husband on a business trip to the "Windy City." They will return to Lincoln on Wednesday.

EASTMONT

Birthdays and bridge are the words from Eastmont this week. The birthdays were those of Miss Becky Bogue, and of Mrs. Wayne Heidtbrink.

Becky, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Bogue, celebrated her 16th birthday at a surprise slumber party given in her honor by Miss Judy Hillhouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Quist. Guests at the party, held on Saturday evening included several of Becky's "sweet sixteen" school friends.

The birthday party for Mrs. Heidtbrink will be tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Marlo Moore. Mrs. Heidtbrink will be honored by neighborhood members of a "birthday coffee club" which meets each month to celebrate neighborhood birthdays.

Celebrating Mrs. Heidtbrink's October birthday will be Mrs. Duane Larson, Mrs. George Gaughan, Mrs. Eldon Garrett, Mrs. William Sommers, Mrs. Don Hamilton, and of course the hostess, Mrs. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore also entertained Eastmont neighbors at a bridge gathering last Friday evening. Five couples were present for the evening of bridge and a mid-night supper.

Guest Of Hadassah

A guest of the Lincoln Hadassah on Tuesday will be Mrs. Lester J. Berlove of Rochester, N.Y., former national vice president of Hadassah, and president of the upper New York state region of the service organization.

Mrs. Berlove will speak on the topic, "Hadassah in Israel," following the group's 12:30 o'clock luncheon at Tifereth Israel Synagogue. A graduate of Goucher College, Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Berlove has been active in civic organizations since her college days and has served as a delegate to World Zionist Congresses in Jerusalem in 1951, 1956 and 1960.

A member of the cabinet of the United Welfare Fund campaign in Rochester, committee member of the National Jewish Welfare Board, auxiliary officer of the Rochester State Hospital, TV and radio stations advisory board member and active in the League of Women Voters and AAUW, Mrs. Berlove recently was honored for her work in human relations by the Rochester Woman's Club.

Dear Abby

Give Him Back His Ring

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Do you believe all men have marriage in mind when they give a girl an engagement ring? I have been going with this man for three years. For a year I have been wearing his ring. He never says, "I love you," or "Let's set the date."

Sometimes I don't believe he cares for me at all and that he gave me a ring just to keep me dangling. I love him but I can't tell him that when he never tells me he loves me. We never talk about our love or our future. I am tired of his stalling. I want to share his life. I am 25 and he is 29. What must I do?

NAMELESS: Give him back his ring—and tell him why.

DEAR ABBY: My husband loves animals. He keeps a pet skunk in our house. This skunk has not been deodorized and I live in constant fear that this pet will "forget" himself one day. Wouldn't you call this mental cruelty?

FEARFUL: The skunk is a peaceful little creature who sprays the evil-smelling liquid only in moments of extreme fright or anger. (It's his weapon to drive off enemies.) So be nice to your bushy-tailed pet and he'll be nice to you.

DEAR ABBY: When I married for the second time, I was a young widow. We were married in his church. After the ceremony my husband pointed out a bookstand memorial which he had donated in memory of his first wife. Her name stood out in large letters. Here we had been married in front of this!

After 25 years and 3 children we still sit in the same pew directly opposite this memorial. I have said nothing, but have felt plenty. Sometimes I think I can't go to church another time. Am I wrong? I've asked to change churches, but he refuses. I'd feel silly telling anyone the reason. What should be done and by whom?

WANTS TO CHANGE CHURCHES: DEAR WANTS: You can't blame your husband if you have never told him of your feelings in the matter. Confide in your clergyman. He will not think you "silly" and will probably have the solution for you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO STUDENT IN TROUBLE: Don't do anything foolish. Send me your name and address and I will tell you where to go for help.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Take Care Of Your Silver

tarnish-preventing cloth which can be found in the notions sections of department stores. This case will hold eight place setting pieces.

You'll Need: one piece of tarnish-preventing cloth 18x13 inches; 2 yards of bias tape; trim as suggested if desired.

To Make:

1. Bind one 13 1/2-inch edge of cloth. This is the lower edge of the case. Now, fold this bound edge up five inches to form a pocket, and pin.

2. Mark off pocket into eight equal sections for individual silver pieces, as shown in the diagram. Stitch each section. Reinforce at the beginning and end of each stitched line.

3. Take a 15-inch strip of bias tape, fold it in half lengthwise, and stitch for tie. Pin the center of the tie to the left front edge of the case about three inches from the lower edge.

4. Bind the three unfinished edges with bias tape, catching the tie. If you wish, you can also bind around the folded edge.

5. Slip silver in pockets, roll up the case and tie.

DECORATIVE TOUCHES:

Though sterling cases are generally plain, you might enjoy giving yours an unusual touch. Let the binding on the case be the trimming accent. Use solid colored bias tape in contrasting color or one of the floral prints, stripes or gingham checks.

For a special touch, personalize each case with a monogram. You can either embroider your monogram on the cases or cut the monogram out in felt and just stitch it to each case.

If you keep spoons, knives, forks, etc., in separate cases instead of grouping them together in place settings, apply a cut-out of the piece to each case.

Or, you can get a lovely effect by using a simple embroidery stitch, such as a feather stitch, around the edge of the case, bordering the bias tape.

Such cases are quite expensive to buy, so a set makes a wonderful gift for friends who have sterling.

The bidding:

The bidding:
Opening lead — king of diamonds.

The uppercut is a colorful term used to describe the promotion of defensive trump tricks in suit contracts. By any other name the play would be equally effective, but in all pertinent cases it leaves the declarer with a feeling that someone has pulled the rug from under his feet.

Superficially, it would seem that South must make four hearts, losing two diamonds and a heart, but actually, South has to go down one against the best defense.

West leads the K-Q of diamonds and then follows with a low diamond which East trumps with the eight. Declarer is forced to overruff — otherwise he goes down immediately — so let's say he trumps with the ten and leads the jack of hearts.

This presents a problem of sorts to West, who might think his partner could win the jack if he ducked, but West takes the trick with the ace because he realizes that South would not have jumped to four hearts except with excellent trumps, as well as the ace of spades.

From West's viewpoint, the best chance of beating the contract is to play East to have the nine of hearts. So, after taking the ace of hearts, he leads another low diamond, hoping for another well-directed uppercut from East.

East does not let him down in this hand because, when he ruffs with the nine, it forces the queen from South, and that leaves declarer with the K-3-2 of trumps, while West still has the 6-4 left. As a result, West must make another heart trick, and South's apparently solid trumps turn out to be an optical illusion.

Note that West's defensive campaign, while it takes a little time to mature, is a practical one. He has a far greater chance, on the bidding, of finding East with several intermediate sized trumps than he does of finding East with a high-card trick.

Accordingly, West plays for the double uppercut from the start, aiming to establish his lowly six as the setting trick.

Huskers Revamping Anti-Aircraft Batteries For Buffs

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Nebraska wasted no time in starting to shore up its pass defenses.

Coach Bob Devaney, making no secret of the fact he expects the Colorado Buffaloes to throw a lot against the Huskers at Boulder Saturday, Monday afternoon huddled with secondary defense coach Jim Ross—who scouted the Buffs last week—and commenced revamping the Husker anti-aircraft batteries.

"We're going to use some different backs on defense this week, due to Colorado's aerial threat," Devaney said. "We want to get our best pass defenders in the game this week—we'll need 'em."

Devaney said the bulk of NU's defensive secondary chores would be turned over to Dave Theisen, Warren Powers, Kent McCloughan and Willie Ross, with Willie Paschall also getting some attention.

Nebraska still has the best pass defense record among Big 8 teams which have logged 5 games—the Huskers have allowed 30 of 71 for 371 yards—but it hasn't been tested by a team that utilizes the pass as much as Colorado does (70 of 147 and 734 yards). And Kansas State sent shivers down the backs of NU secondary men last week by completing two long ones, the first for an 86-yard touchdown.

Two Huskers won promotions for their work against K-State as the Scarlets ran their string to 5-0.

Devaney also plans to shuffle centers Ron Michka, Jim Baffico and Lyle Sittler on the top two units.

At the noon meeting of the Extra Point Club Monday Quarterbacks, Devaney settled the "altitude" question—which always pops up when Nebraska travels to Colorado—in short order.

"If any of the boys come off the field complaining about the thin air, they'll get a foot where they sit," Devaney said.

The Husker coach said the altitude at Boulder shouldn't have any bearing on the game.

After receiving his 6th successive standing ovation from the 300 or so QBs, Devaney responded by saying:

"I'm grateful for such a fine reception—particularly since there are some people who are now pointing out that all the teams we've beaten have losing records."

"In defense of our boys, I'd like to point out that we added one loss to their records."

In reference to the Kansas State game, Devaney said the NU "running game did a pretty good job," but termed the Husker passing "spasmodic."

"We didn't use the pass as an integral part of our offense like we want to," Bob said. "Also, we've got to correct and improve our punt coverage."

Devaney said Kansas State was "pretty well primed for an upset and the game started out that way," adding that the Wildcats "fought hard all the way and a lot of credit should go to Kansas State players and coaches for keeping up their morale each week."

Explaining the two K-State passes which bombed the Scarlets early in the game, Devaney said:

"Kansas State was the most conservative team we'd scouted all year and our defense was set to stop their running game deep in their territory. I told Doug (Weaver, K-State coach) after the game that his touchdown play wasn't in the book and that it was a sneaky trick."

Devaney also said that Kansas State used the same defense which North Carolina State employed this week before "but they didn't have the manpower to run it as well."

Ross told the Monday QBs that Colorado has players who "individually and physically are as big and as strong as anyone we've met," but added CU has "only 5 kids back from the Orange Bowl squad."

"It will be Homecoming for Colorado and they'll be tough," Ross warned. "They went 80 yards on the ground for their first touchdown last week and we look for them to run more along with their passing."

Taking a poke at himself, the Husker pass defense coach said, "Any team that throws that much (40 times)—especially against a pass defense like we've got—is dangerous."

Frosh Prospects

Devaney said the Nebraska Freshmen "did a good job" in beating Kansas State, 31-0.

"We saw some good hitting and found some boys with abilities to help us next year," he said.

Asked about the Husker pass rush, Devaney said, "We've been doing an inadequate job of rushing the passer. But we don't have big, strong ends which are needed to really put a good pass rush on."

Two Ailing

With the exception of fullback Bill Thornton and halfback Dennis Stuewe, the Huskers should be at top shape for Colorado, Devaney said.

"We don't know if either will be able to play this week," Bob said.

Monday afternoon the 3rd and 4th Husker units scrimmaged the Freshmen, while the top units worked lightly before adjourning for movies and the Colorado scout report.

Fullmer Risks Middle Crown Against Tiger

WBA Title Rests On Tonight's Bout

... IN CANDLESTICK PARK

San Francisco (AP)—Champion Gene Fullmer, the awkward appearing belter from Utah, risks his World Boxing Association crown an 8th time tonight facing Nigerian Dick Tiger, a sharper hitter with as much strength.

Neither 160-pounder has set any pattern of action for the 15-round closed-circuit television battle at Candlestick Park with Fullmer's share of the world championship at stake.

"Whatever way he wants to fight me is the way I'll fight him," declared the 33-year-old Tiger whose given name Ihetu was discarded long ago when he started boxing with the leaping style of a tiger.

Improved Steadily

Since then, he's improved steadily using a close-in style of attack with the left hook his best weapon and a straight right to the body almost as dangerous.

Despite reports the challenger was having trouble making the 160-pound limit, the odds in his favor have gone the past few days from 7-5 to 8-5.

Even when the odds were 7-5, Fullmer expressed disdain with the declaration, "If I didn't think I could win, I wouldn't have offered to fight him."

Weight Problem

Fullmer ended his workouts last Friday but Tiger boxed on Saturday and scheduled a workout Monday on the eve of the fight. His manager, Jersey Jones, indicated a problem with weight when he announced Monday's drill.

"We're not concerned about the weight, but Tiger is," said Jones. The weigh-in is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. CST today.

The 31-year-old champion won his flat fighter's nose when his title here in August 1959, stopping Carmen Basilio in the 14th round of the National Boxing Association elimination bout. Since then the NBA has become the WBA.

While the WBA recognizes Fullmer, Paul Pender of Massachusetts is called champion in his home state and in New York plus Europe.

Tiger holds the British Empire title but the British Boxing Board recognizes Pender as world champion.

Never Stopped

The challenger never has been stopped en route to a 45-12-2 record and has won 7 straight. He boasts 21 knockouts, including one over Florino Fernandez in 6 rounds.

Fullmer's record is 55-4-2. He got only a decision over Fernandez in a title fight 14 months ago. The champion has been stopped once — by Sugar Ray Robinson.

East Butler Cracks Top 10 In Class C

Looming bigger every week is Nov. 3 — the day the Nebraska Cornhuskers meet the Missouri Tigers at Memorial Stadium.

While there's no guarantee in football, both teams should be unbeaten. Nebraska will be favored to defeat Colorado this week; Missouri will be favored to defeat Iowa State.

Of course both could stumble. Iowa State may be set to pull off a stunner in view of its offensive parade against Colorado. And the Buffs may be able to exploit Nebraska's pass defense lapses — exposed on a couple of plays against Kansas State — often enough to upset the Huskers.

But the most frequently asked question last weekend was: how do the Cornhuskers and Tigers compare?

I have had the good fortune to see both clubs against the only common opponent they have faced — Kansas State — and I'd rate the Huskers and Tigers just about even, with a slight edge to Missouri.

Missouri whipped K-State, 32-0; Nebraska won, 26-6. And neither club attempted to pour it on the Wildcats, using the game instead to season reserves in the late stages.

Similar Performances

Despite the difference in scores, Nebraska looked just as good against K-State as Missouri did — clearly superior, that is, but not sensational.

True, Nebraska permitted a touchdown. But as Wildcat coach Doug Weaver confessed, it came via a gamble and K-State attempted no such gamble against Missouri.

Nebraska gained more yards on the ground against K-State than Missouri (317-293), more yards passing (87-71), completed the same number of passes (6-6) and stopped the Wildcats better on the ground (38-79).

More Passes

On the other hand, K-State passed for 156 yards against Nebraska, compared to only 46 against the Tigers. It should be pointed out, however, that the Wildcats passed only 9 times against Missouri, while firing 22 aerials at the Huskers.

Nebraska did have more trouble with fumbles than Missouri, but the Huskers have a more daring, wide-open offense. The Tigers stick to a basic, power-type game where the chance for error is less.

Here's the statistical picture of the contrast:

Missouri vs. K-State		Nebraska vs. K-State
First Downs	19	7	18
Yards rushing	292	79	317
Yards passing	71	46	87
Total yards	363	125	404
Passes	6-6	4-9	6-15
Passes int. by	2	0	0
Fumbles lost	1	2	3
Yards penalized	15	18	45

It is obvious that the major difference in the Huskers and the Tigers can be found in pass defense. There, the Tigers bested the Scarlets by 90 yards, or approximately the distance of K-State's sensational pass play which netted the Wildcats their only touchdown of the season.

Who will win? I don't know but I have a hunch the Tigers are a little stronger in a couple of key spots than the Huskers.

Right now, however, I'm not worrying about Missouri. Like the Huskers, I've got a stronger hunch that Colorado poses the immediate problem.

Omahan Is Leader In Pass Receiving

... FACES ALABAMA SATURDAY

Tulsa, Okla. (P)—A junior college transfer who plays basketball and runs hurdles to improve his football leads the country in pass catching. He is John Simmons, a 6-foot 3-inch 197-pounder who has accounted for more than half of the University of Tulsa's total yardage through the air in 3 victories and two losses.

Simmons snagged 11 passes Saturday to overtake Oregon State's Vernon Burke for the catching leadership. But he'll have a tough time retaining that lead Saturday, when the Hurricane faces mighty Alabama at Tuscaloosa.

Hard To Stop

Even the Crimson Tide, though, may not stop Simmons easily.

"There's no one man going to stop him," said Louisville coach Frank Camp after watching Simmons haul in 3 touchdown passes against the Cardinals last Saturday.

"He's the best end I've seen." Several times Simmons has leaped from amid covering defenders to grab a pass and Tulsa coach Glenn Dobbs says he seems to "look the ball into his hands."

Playing basketball and running hurdles helps his pass catching, Simmons says. Year-round sports keep him in shape and basketball sharpens his shiftiness and improves his jumping, he explained, while track helps his speed.

10.3 In Century

He can put both hands on a basketball rim and runs the 100-yard dash now in 10.3 seconds, though he's primarily a hurdler.

In 5 games Simmons has caught 41 passes for 500 yards and 6 touchdowns. Burke has 37 receptions for 551 yards and 7 scores.

Simmons already has set new Tulsa records for most receptions in a season and the most in a single game, 12. His 3 touchdown catches Saturday tied another mark and he needs only another 192 yards to set a season gaining standard.

Simmons, 23, played prep football at Omaha, Neb., but says, "I wasn't anything in high school." He attended Omaha University one year, then entered the Army for 6 months and after his release transferred to Northeastern A&M, a junior college at Miami, Okla. That was where Tulsa spotted him and he joined the Hurricane this fall after another service hitch during the Berlin crisis.

9 In First Game

In his first game here he caught 9 passes. He grabbed 5 against Arkansas and 4 on a windy day against Oklahoma State, Tulsa's toughest foes so far.

And how does he view Saturday's meeting with Alabama?

"I won't say we're going to win, but I won't say we're going to lose either," Simmons said. "We may be the team to knock them off."

Brother At NU

Grant Simmons, brother of John, is enrolled at the University of Nebraska and will be a member of Coach Bob Gates Husker freshman basketball team this season.

Grading Begins On Golf Course At Holmes Park

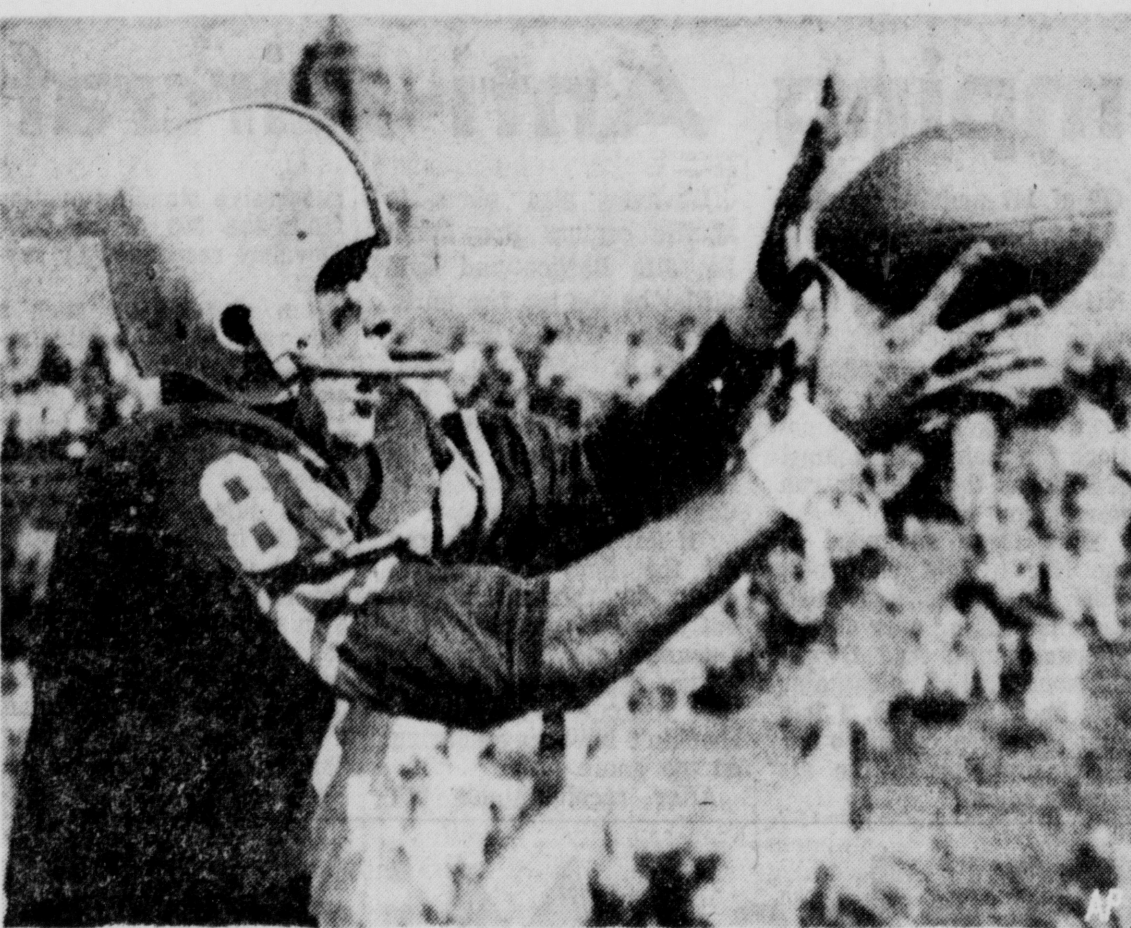

Rough grading has begun on the golf course at Holmes Park.

Floyd Farley, golf architect from Oklahoma City who planned Lincoln's new public grass greens course, is supervising the grading which will take about 30 days.

Park Supt. Jim Ager said that contracts for other work on the course have not been let but should be soon. Ager said he hoped to have the course ready to play sometime during the summer of 1964.

Basketball Scholars

Stu Paris of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Ed Sukenick of Paterson, N.J., two Brandeis University regulars in basketball, won't be available until the second semester because they are studying in Israel for 6 months on an exchange scholarship.

Discontent In Tennessee Stirs Talk Of Changes

Knoxville, Tenn. (P)—Discontent over Tennessee's 4 successive football losses stirred talk Monday of possible changes in the coaching staff.

The Volunteers, 1951 national champions and once one of the feared names in football, are off to their worst start since 1909 when they lost 6 games in a row without scoring a point and battled to two scoreless ties.

Auburn, Mississippi State, Georgia Tech and Alabama have beaten Tennessee on successive Saturdays to plunge the Volunteers to the cellar of the Southeastern Conference.

Greatly Perturbed

No one in authority at Tennessee would talk about the situation for publication. But the Knoxville News-Sentinel said President Andrew D. Holt and the University Board of Trustees are "greatly perturbed" over the Vols' slump.

Holt was out of town and other officials, including coach Bowden Wyatt, declined comment.

The News-Sentinel, without naming its source, said Holt and the trustees were considering the following avenues of action at the end of the 1962 season:

1. Retain Wyatt for one more year.
2. Move Wyatt upstairs to the athletic directorship and name Ralph Chancey, an assistant, head coach.
3. Dismiss the entire staff and start over.

Wyatt was named acting athletic director last spring after the death of Gen. Robert R. Neyland, long-time Tennessee coach and athletic director.

Neyland Protege

Wyatt, a Neyland protege and like his old coach a devotee of the single wing system, had great success for 3 seasons after taking over as Tennessee head coach in 1955.

Over the 3-year span from 1955 to 1957, his teams won 23 regular season games, lost 6, tied one and broke even in two post-season bowl contests. Since 1957, Wyatt's teams have a 23-20-3 record.

Su Mac Lad Favored

Yonkers, N.Y. (P)—Su Mac Lad of the United States drew the No. 2 post position Monday and was promptly established the early 8-5 favorite for the $60,000 United Nations Trot Thursday night at Yonkers Raceway. The race is designed to decide the 1962 world trotting title.

Buffalo's Gilchrist Cops Rushing Lead

... HAYNES 2ND IN AFL

Dallas, Tex. (P)—Cookie Gilchrist, Buffalo's flamboyant fullback, roamed for 143 yards against Oakland and took over the lead in rushing in the American Football League.

Gilchrist slammed past Charlie Tolar of Houston, who managed only 47 yards against Denver and fell down to 3rd, while Abner Haynes of Dallas pulled into second place with 84 against New York.

Buffaloes Bypass

Usual Scrimmage

Boulder, Colo. (P)—Injury-riddled Colorado bypassed its usual scrimmage Monday as coach Bud Davis sent the Buffs through a stiff workout devoted to blocking and tackling.

"We were pretty bad on these essentials against Iowa State last weekend," he said as the Buffaloes prepared for Saturday's date with Nebraska.

Guard Tom Kresnak, a sophomore who started against Iowa State, suffered a knee injury and did not take part in the practice. He is doubtful for the Nebraska game. Also ailing are backs Leon Mavity and Roger Wissmiller and center Dale Christensen.

Former Fly Chaser

Jim Campbell, vice-president and general manager of the Detroit Tigers, was an outfielder at Ohio State.

97 carries, Haynes 447 on 82, and Tolar 442 on 88 runs. Len Dawson of Dallas threw for 276 yards against New York and held onto his lead in passing. He has completed 91 of 147 for 1416 yards and 14 touchdowns and also has the top average gain of 9.6. While Frank Tripucka of Denver has 141 in 248 for 1905 yards, he does not surpass Dawson under the 6-point system that includes interceptions.

Gene Mingo of Denver stayed out front in scoring with his 90 points but Haynes, in second place, gained on him by running his total to 72 with two touchdowns against New York.

Billy Atkins of New York leads the punters with a 46.1-yard average. Bo Roberson of Oakland tops the kickoff returners with a 31.7 average on 9 runs. Dick Christy of New York leads the punt returners with a 12.4 average. Carl Charon of Buffalo and Marv Matuszak of Buffalo are tied for the lead in pass interceptions with 6 apiece.

LSU Athletic Director Raps Football Ratings

Birmingham, Ala. (P)—Athletic director Jim Corbett of Louisiana State University said Monday that football ratings as they are now conducted are unfair.

"They represent more of a new gimmick than they do actual strengths and weaknesses of the teams rated," he told a sports club here.

"Pressures created by these inaccurate appraisals," he said, "... is jeopardiz-ing the livelihood of men in the coaching profession. The prestige of being among the top 10 teams in the nation has become a major item in rating the success or failure of a team or coach."

Corbett said the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau and the Football Writers Association needs to re-evaluate the teams, based on the schedules they play.

"If a coach must be judged," he said, "then judge him fairly."

"I neither question nor criticize the schedule of any institution anywhere," Corbett said. "That design is the prerogative of the individual school. I have no argument against the David-and-Goliath method of matching if it serves the budgetary needs and alumni pleasures of those institutions. But it is only fair to incorporate in these ratings some method to consider the caliber of the opposition."

"As it now stands," he said, "The No. 1 team may be one which has won key games but whose schedule is interspersed with teams of lesser ability, thus providing a remedial period of physical recovery or a contest where the pressure is off."

Terry, Mahaffey Lead Gopher Ball Tossers

New York (P)—Ralph Terry of the New York Yankees and Art Mahaffey of the Philadelphia Phillies yielded the most home runs among major league pitchers in 1962, figures compiled by the Associated Press disclosed.

Terry, the World Series hero, gave up 40 homers in the regular season to lead the American League. Mahaffey was the National League's gopher ball pace-setter with 36. Both are right-handers.

Von Clay Knocks Out Young In Fifth Round

Philadelphia (P)—Philadelphia's Von Clay, smarting from his recent defeat by England's Brian London, scored a one-punch knockout over a disabled Dick Young Monday night in 2 minutes 38 seconds of the 5th round of a scheduled 10-round light-heavyweight feature at the arena.

Young, unbeaten in 15 previous bouts, and ahead on all 3 cards Monday night, was doubled over by a stomach cramp in the 5th. He went down to his knees for an attempt to end the spasm. When he stood up, still in pain, Clay circled him twice, then put him away with a right cross to the jaw.

New York Halfback On Doubtful List For Tilt

New York (P)—Dick Pesonen, defensive halfback of the New York Giants, was on the doubtful list for Sunday's game with Washington after suffering a torn rib cartilage and possible chip fracture of the 11th rib in Sunday's game with Detroit.

Dr. Francis Sweeney, club physician, said Pesonen would remain in St. Elizabeth's hospital until mid-week.

Mauch Wants Phils As Team Of Year

Los Angeles (P) — Gene Mauch said Monday of his selection as 1962 National League Manager of the Year in the annual Associated Press poll:

"It makes me very happy. The only thing that will make me any happier is when the Phillies are the team of the year."

He didn't predict when that might be.

The 36-year-old Philadelphia skipper admitted, "It comes as quite a surprise, finishing 7th and being named Manager-of-the-Year."

Hottest Team

The Phils were the hottest team in the last month of the season, winning 19 of their final 26 games. They wound up only 2½ games behind the 6th-place St. Louis Cardinals.

Mauch received 33 votes in extremely close balloting by members of the Baseball Writers Association.

Alvin Dark of the pennant-winning San Francisco Giants was named on 31 ballots.

Walter Alston of the runner-up Los Angeles Dodgers was 3rd with 27 votes.

The writers cast 108 ballots based on the teams' regular-season performances.

Mauch got word of his selection in a phone call Sunday night at the Indian Wells Country Club, on the Southern California Desert near Palm Springs. He had participated in a 4-day golfing tournament with other baseball notables including Ralph Kiner, Bob Lemon, Albie Pearson, Jim Davenport and Al Dark. But he modestly didn't mention the news to the others.

Huskers Enjoy Top-Heavy Statistical Advantage

Nebraska continued to have a top-heavy statistical advantage over opponents after 5 games this fall.

The Huskers have out-downed opponents 67-33, out-rushed them 1240-574, out-passed them 703-371, out-netted them 1943-945 and have run the ball almost 100 times more, 362-264.

In the individual department, 10 Huskers are carrying better than a 4-yard per try rushing average with Willie Paschall leading at 8.3. Willie Ross is the top gainer with 218 yards while Dennis Clariege is second with 198.

All told, 18 Huskers have scored this fall, compared to 10 for the entire 1961 season, and 17 have caught passes, compared to 11 last season.

Pro Basketball Comes To Frisco Tonight

Transferred from coast to coast during the off-season—from Philadelphia to San Francisco—the Warriors face the Detroit Pistons in their opening game.

Cards' Coach Says He Will Quit If Team Steam Lacking

St. Louis (P) — "Either I'm not doing the job, or I've over-estimated the ability of the club — and I hope it's not the latter," St. Louis football Cardinal coach Wally Lemm said Monday.

Lemm, disturbed over the Cardinals poor showing in his first year as head coach, has threatened to quit if the team can't show more steam that it has.

The Cardinals have a 1-4-1 record this year. They lost to the Cleveland Browns 34-7 Sunday.

"I don't know what it takes to get this team up," Lemm said after the Cleveland game. "And it's my fault if I can't get them up. The only game we've started well all season was against New York. In every other game the team wasn't ready to play."

"I've tried every way I could think of to do it. But I refuse to drive the men. I'm not that kind of a coach."

This is Lemm's first year with the National Football League. He took over the Houston Oilers in the American Football League last year when they had a 1-3-1 record and led the club to a championship.

"I don't know what the trouble was Sunday," Lemm said. "I feel they can play better than they did. Maybe I've over-estimated the club — but I hope not."

Lemm said the team is not putting out the extra effort needed to win.

"That's the responsibility of the head coach," he said.

Lemm said he is not planning on quitting.

"I told the team that if I couldn't do the job they wouldn't have to fire me. I'd see the handwriting on the wall."

Getting a team ready to play is not a matter of the last few minutes before kick-off, Lemm said.

Hoffa Lawyers Lose Their Bid

Nashville, Tenn. (AP) — Lawyers for teamsters leader James R. Hoffa lost their bid to derail his $1 million conspiracy trial Monday by claiming the jury panel is loaded against him.

After two hours of testimony and argument, District Judge William E. Miller briskly examined the defense motion section-by-section and overruled it.

The judge said he felt that the government system of obtaining names of prospective jurors provided a reasonable cross-section of the community.

Favors Business

The defense contends the system favors the management and business class. Defense attorneys made it clear they will try to make the point repeatedly when selection of the jury begins Tuesday.

Hoffa, the nation's most controversial labor leader, is accused of using union influence to make a fortune in a trucking enterprise. Such an action would violate the Taft-Hartley Act.

Complaint Denied

On another Hoffa legal front, the U.S. Supreme Court in Washington denied his complaint that President Kennedy and other government officials prejudiced a grand jury against him.

The grand jury returned an indictment in Orlando, Fla., charging mail fraud against Hoffa and R. E. McCarthy Jr., a Detroit bank employee.

Judge Rules Against Delay In Estes Trial

Tyler, Tex. (UPI) — Bankrupt financier Billie Sol Estes must be tried immediately on state charges of theft and swindling, Dist. Judge Otis T. Dunagan ruled Monday. He summoned a 150-member jury panel for trial Monday.

"Outraged" defense attorneys demanded an indefinite postponement. Estes, they said, has already been convicted by the publicity the case has received.

Dunagan overruled the motion for continuance after 3 defense witnesses admitted they did not know what the exact charges were against the former cotton, grain and fertilizer tycoon.

The witnesses had testified they believed it would be difficult to obtain an impartial jury in Tyler. Estes' trial had been postponed twice.

Dunagan recessed the court until 9:30 a.m. CST. Selection of the jury panel was expected to take as long as a week.

More than 100 witnesses were awaiting the start of testimony.

Chief defense attorney John D. Cofer of Austin, Tex., called for a continuance after Dunagan refused to ban news camera coverage of the trial.

The publicity, Cofer said, was an "outrage."

Chief prosecutor, Dist. Atty. R. B. McGowan of Monahans, Tex., admitted there was a lot of publicity but said the 3 witnesses admission that they were not aware of the exact charges proved that a jury cannot reach a decision until it hears sworn testimony.

Dunagan will rule Tuesday on a defense motion to examine each juror separately from the rest of the panel. Cofer cited cases in which a conviction had been reversed because jurors had heard things discussed during the empaneling.

He will also decide which one of 4 counts against Estes will be brought to trial. He was expected to pick one involving a mortgage deal with a Reeves County farmer.

Estes will enter a formal plea of "innocent" after rulings on the preliminary motions.

Telstar Will Take Southern Vacation

New York (AP) — Telstar, which chatters like a magpie from its perch in space, is going south for a vacation next month and will rest its well-used vocal cords.

The American communications satellite is sinking toward the southern horizon, like the winter sun, and by November will be too low for effective test transmissions.

For that reason, transatlantic tests will be suspended temporarily for 7 weeks and domestic transmissions for a week.

But Telstar's inclined orbit, which approaches a parallel of the equator, will bring it back up and it will hit its expected zenith in March.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co., builder of the satellite, said it has been humming along in fine fashion since its launching from Cape Canaveral Fla., last July 10.

As of Oct. 16 Telstar had made 900 orbits of the earth and had traveled 34 million miles—roughly one third of the distance to the sun.

A.T.&T. said that during a recent series of domestic and international tests with business machines the space switchboard transmitted at the rate of 11.3 million words a minute. Telstar has also sent live television, radio and news copy in other tests.

The company said it was pleased with the performance of its pioneering space traveler so far and that its orbit and aging have been about as expected.

The satellite's solar cells have been aged in passes through the Van Allen radiation belt, A.T.&T. asserted, but radiation damage has been within the anticipated range.

The company said the output of Telstar's solar batteries has dropped to 82% of its initial capacity, but this is still considerably above the 50% level at which it will still function satisfactorily.

By July 1964, when the company intends to stop transmissions, Telstar's solar batteries are expected to have dropped only to 64% of capacity.

U.S. SETS HIGH NUCLEAR TEST

Washington (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission said Monday a high altitude U.S. nuclear test has been scheduled for this Saturday in the Johnston Island test area.

A "low yield range" device will be detonated at an altitude of "tens of kilometers," the AEC said.

The United States has had two successes in 6 tries at high altitude explosions in its current Pacific series. The previous one was last Saturday (Friday night Honolulu time).

Gromyko Leaves For East Berlin

New York (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko left by plane for East Berlin Monday amid a developing air of crisis on the international scene.

Gromyko, whose departure from the United Nations was delayed a day, was tight lipped as to the purpose of his visit to East Germany and as to how long he planned to stay.

Berlin is not a usual stop on the flight to Moscow. The cancellation of his flight Sunday night was attributed by port authority police at Idlewild airport to bad weather over the Atlantic. However, that flight was destined for Moscow.

X MARKS THE SPOT where your advertising belongs—on a well-read, well-shopped page of the daily newspaper. The advertising on radio and TV, and to some extent in magazines, is an annoying interruption of the entertainment. But people read a daily newspaper primarily for news...and the advertising is accepted as shopping news. Research shows that three out of four housewives check the ads in the daily newspaper before making their main shopping trips of the week.* Don't you have something to tell housewives about your product or your store? Tell them here...in the pages of this newspaper.

Nebraska's Young GOP Praised

If Young Republican clubs around the country were in as good shape as they are in Nebraska, the Republicans wouldn't have much to worry about, Len Nadasdy, national chairman of the Young Republicans, said Monday.

Nadasdy was in Lincoln to meet with state Young Republican leaders before moving on to a number of Rocky Mountain states.

Nadasdy said he planned to spend more time in other states than in Nebraska because are not needed as much here.

Nadasdy said he considers the 3 House seats now held by Republicans in Nebraska "safe." He said he is also optimistic that Fred Seaton will be elected governor.

The native of Minneapolis said that the Young Republicans are making a strenuous effort to organize in cities and the suburbs where Republican organization has been weak for many years.

Nadasdy also said he thinks the Republican Party can someday become the majority party in the United States. He said the election of more Republican governors will be a big step toward this goal.

Duane Acklie, state chairman of the Young Republicans, said there are now 31 Young Republican clubs in the state, with ones expected at Dana College and Chadron State Teachers Colleges soon.

He estimated there are 2,000 Young Republicans in Nebraska now and predicted a current membership drive would increase this figure to 5,000 in the months to come.
